

Tick Tock No More, Darkness Descends For 3 Days 12-12-25@8:18 PM

Tick tock, the clock has struck 12 o'clock. Tell Me men and women of this world, where will you run from My anger and wrath? For when the clock hand reaches 12:01, this is what you will feel and experience, once you come through the three days of darkness that descends now as I shut this evil, wicked world down. I do it now, daughter, in My time, which is dwindled down to your time, daughter, that of mankind's, even in all its many flaws and inaccuracies. Tick tock, I say no longer, it shall be for you, oh world. When the darkness lifts after three days of trials inside, your world will be at a standstill, but hope shall resurface as many realize they have survived the darkness with many not sure what it was they endured. This is the beginning of the shutdown of your world. "The grids will begin restoring power slowly to the nations not to overload the power grids," they will say, but in reality, it is to switch over a changing of power, a rule of the world, although it shall not be evidently seen at first to those still here. Before the grids of power of the world's various kinds begin in earnest to start being restored to the people and some governments still yet, I shall further shut this world's commerce and trade down as Babylon-America is destroyed from the inside by those who infiltrated her long ago.

Sleeper cells, sleeper cells, already on standby, already in place. The 10 hidden, nuclear suitcases hidden throughout Babylon-America shall finally be detonated, soon followed by the bombing of Ukraine's Kiev by Putin's Satan-2, his Sarmat-2 nuclear missile, but only after the Orshnik flies again, and she will, daughter, she will be airborne once again. I shut this world down, daughter, for weeks. America-Babylon, trader of goods far and near, and the number one supplier of trafficking of children, women, and souls shall be so decimated and polluted by all the nuclear residue and radioactivity that no one shall touch her wares. Her gold, silver, all that she has to offer shall be wiped away within a one hour period of man's time. No more tick tock for you, now destruction comes on the tailwind of the three days of darkness. I shut down your world by one single command, because My voice is the voice of God. My voice is a voice of authority inside your world and firmament. My voice is the voice of the Creator, and now I create destruction for the evil and the wicked in the form of righteous judgment. I am a God of love, but also one of holiness and righteousness.

Sin has a cost and must be paid. This is My world I created for My Father by His command. Those who have sought to destroy this earth, those who have killed and destroyed so many of My people and My children, even those of their own kind, your time has come. It's not going to be like you thought, kingdom of darkness. Have you not paid attention to the very words I tell My children that you watch and monitor so closely? Never assume, because in assumptions, most times you are wrong. Just as you are again this time, because I see your hearts and thoughts, every evil black thought and heart. As the darkness falls, daughter, it will be quickly done. As I showed you once again this very day by vision while you were outside, when I start descending, it shall darken that quick. (Before I go on, I did have a vision, I was outside and it just suddenly got dim. It's like someone took a dimmer switch and everything was dark. It was like that for like five minutes and that's what He's talking about. It was just a small vision, thank you Lord, and at the time I did not think I was going to share it. So this is what he's talking about. It's just simple if you're seeing a dimmer switch that you just turn down as quickly as you can turn it down, that's how quick it descended. When it starts descending, it shall darken that quick.)

The aurora lights have come to your world, daughter. Your scientists and specialty groups like NASA all say it's because the sun is in its solar maximum, and once it's over, the sun will calm down. Will it, oh world? I say it will not. Man's evil machines and devices aimed at the sun to try to pull and harness the sun's power from the upper atmosphere are only causing more damage. By My command, the sun is now beginning to retaliate to fulfill My words written in the Scripture of Truth. Are you ready, oh world? Because here I come, bringing righteous judgment beginning now with the three days of darkness that begins the shutdown of your world, and it will stay shut down until I command otherwise. I say repent of your sins while you still can. Do you not feel My Holy Spirit pulling at your heart? Do not resist Him, because for many when the darkness falls, if you don't repent, you will have no other opportunities.

Tick tock, no more darkness descends. I shut this world down now, daughter, I do it now. All has been cleared for it now to come to be. Tick tock, I say, the clock has struck 12, darkness descends with the aurora lights already seen, the allotted time, now they come again the same yet different. As each of man's fake time zones pays its due, causing what could have been, to not be. Now they appear for moments of My time. Prepare for the fiery trials, My children, and oh world, because you're out of time. Seek Me for the truth of that which I have just spoken. Tick tock, the clock has struck 12. Here comes the three days of darkness instead of a jolly old fat man, a fake god coming down your chimneys dressed in red with the sack on his back yelling, "Ho, ho, ho." Instead of your spread feast, which I have come to hate, not only the customs of the Jewish people, you, oh world, for those who have some type of light, you shall sit huddled together eating your meager meals, because this is not only the season of these things to come, it's also the time. Tick tock, no more, darkness descends. Get indoors, My children. It's time to be ready to go indoors. That is all, daughter, I have to say. Now it's up to My children to seek Me for further instructions and if, or when they do, they will know My truth of when to be ready. Take this to Jesus Christ in prayer.

More Vision Details of the Descending Darkness

I was going to look and see, was there anything left on that in the vision, because it was just a short vision. He's actually talking to me about these things. I had to travel today. Right before, okay, I hear the birds singing in the distance. What am I supposed to see? He told me to look. Wait, the birds have hushed, and the sky is going dim. It's going dark, like someone has suddenly turned the light dimmer, like a light dimmer switch all the way off. It's dark. Jesus Christ, it's dark. And again, it was just simply like turning it down. Once it started dimming, it was that quick.

So, take all this to Jesus Christ in prayer. Try, test, and discern it.
