

Now it is the Appointed Time Babylon-America 10-8-26@1:01 PM Shared 10-9-26

Now! Now! Now it is the time Daughter, Father has spoke...and has given the command this goes forward.

This is that point in time for wicked Babylon to be struck her first blow. Daughter, don't weep for her. Don't weep for the destruction you see. It's well worth the cost and justice that they're paying.

Beloved Daughter, beloved Daughter now, I say now, Daughter, now is the time! Now is the time. Now is the time. Now is the time. Now is the time. Now is the time I destroy evil wicked Babylon-America.

Daughter, she is the leading supplier of human flesh to other nations to contaminate their people's food as well. What will the hungry do? They will eat it.

Such evil pours out of evil, wicked Babylon with Manhattan the controlling center of it all. Hear me, not Washington DC, I say it's Manhattan New York where the finances are. Where the big wheels and deals are done. Where the UN sets its seat, its mark. Where lucifer sits.

I release the mustard gas now. I activated and release it. I unleash it now. It shall be activated now.

Now! Now! Now! I say, now, now, now, now, but there will be a difference. There will be a difference among those affected as I rise up and protect those who are Mine. Remember Daughter, I said I was removing these things, these contaminants, these nanobots, all these things out of My children. My true children who attended the martyr's funeral, Charlie Kirk's funeral who are of a pure heart, that are seeking Me, that love Me will not die of this mustard gas. Hear Me, they will not die of this mustard gas.

But many others shall fall and so come to it, for it is an evil, evil, wicked weapon. Weapon Daughter, that's what it is, a weapon created in the hollow belly of the Earth where the fallen angels have taken up residence. I'm not talking about hell, sheol, or gehenna, however you want to call it. I'm talking about the lower beneath, where the Black Rock sits where they draw power from its presence in the Earth.

These things I created were not meant to be misused this way. The Earth cries out daughter, the Earth cries out! The Earth cries out, the Earth cries out not only its people. The earth, the inhabitants yes, the other inhabitants, the creatures, the beast, the animals, the little gnat, the mosquito that's altered..... I hear it all.

I hear it all.

I told you Daughter, I told you and now you're seeing the depths of wickedness. It goes beyond..... It's like a deep, deep, deep, deep, poisonous, infected, festering wound, oozing out of depravity, debauchery, sin upon sin accumulated upon years upon years of being in the bed with the fallen angels like a harlot. Like an unfaithful wife. Like Gomer was to Hosea.

Like My children inside her walls, Babylon's walls. There are more of the world's, than of Me. But there is a remnant of those I have shaken awake.

Come up! Come up! Come out of your sleep! These are My jewels. These are My beloved children. I love them all, but these are the ones that are passionately pursuing Me with all that's in them. This time is now Daughter. This time is now. I will not let Babylon stand any longer.

I've heard your anguished cries and so many more. Last night Daughter, you were crying over, not just your nation's people, this world's, realizing that they had put human flesh and other parts of humans inside the foods and candies and all these things for consumption, even feeding it to the animals.

"Curses upon curses trying to curse everything. You wept bitterly daughter and I wept with you. It still affects you."..."It does God."

This is why I've been having you to prepare for a long time Daughter. But My Name is all powerful and I will ensure My children left behind, if they heed My voice, and if they listen and obey, stay away from the sin, I will make sure their bellies are filled. It won't always be a warm bowl of beans as I told you before, because sin has a cost. It may be a crusty piece of bread. It may be a pack of crackers, but Daughter I will take care of Mine, and I will multiply the food and places.

I'm going to take these Bibles and other Bibles and I'm going to multiply them Daughter and I'm going to make the understanding be clear no matter what has been changed when a hungry heart finally lays its eyes upon these words or hears them spoken. In a dry, dry, dry famine world it will be a spring of living water for that's what I am.

I will bless the Bibles, so it's been given. I'm going to protect them, Daughter. I know you've already been praying because you've seen the enemy how in between them, and in the pages spraying them and in the spines of them putting these things, these toxins, these poisons, these gases because who else is going to want a copy of the Word of God except one of My children, or one that's not loyal to the man of sin.
