

God Said It, Of Course Kim's Alive 5-2-20@10:57AM Journal Entry

“God, You are so awesome! You told me North Korea’s leader Kim Jong Un was alive and we would see him back out in the public by the end of the week. There is an article that came across my phone saying Kim Jong Un had reappeared. I looked it up on my computer and it is from Fox News, (www.foxnews.com) published 3 hours ago putting it at 8:00AM by Chris Irvine and it says, North Korea releases pictures showing Kim Jong Un's first public appearance in weeks. When I spoke with You yesterday all You did was reiterate that he would reappear, but in prior conversations on 4-27-20@4:27 AM God, You said he would reemerge. On 4-28-20@6:13 AM He would reappear by the ending of the week. On 4-30-20@4:13 AM You confirmed that he was still alive. So this was not the weekend but by the end of the week which would make it Friday 5-1-20 and this is the actual day he reappeared.

The article says North Korea has released images of Kim Jong Un making his first public appearance in more than three weeks! In videos and photos released by the Korean Central News Agency (KCNA), official state media of the hermit kingdom, Kim was shown attending a ceremony opening a fertilizer factory near Pyongyang. The KCNA claimed workers at the factory broke into ‘thunderous cheers’ for Kim. (The fertilizer factory is actually in Suncheon, South Pyongan province, near Pyongyang, North Korea.) You said God in one conversation yesterday, that he would reappear in a pompous cloud and what better way than cheering workers while you cut a ribbon with ceremonial scissors? God, You amaze me more and more each day and as I grow closer, I find I want to know You more and more. I love You, Jesus, I love You.” “And I love you, Child!”
