

The Parasite Plan for Mankind Dream 7-5-26@8:39 AM Shared 7-10-26

I dreamed I was in a land far away. A land of turmoil and unrest. A place where evil ruled the land. I knew this as I was going into the dream. I am wandering about observing closely all I saw. Some of the buildings had beautiful colors and had a Turkish or Russian looking design to them. What I am referring to in this part is the rounded dome shaped rooftops of some of the buildings I can see in the distance.

Although there were people I could see walking about, I noticed very few looked happy. They're all dressed much the same in dark winter clothing in shades of dark navy and blacks. With the exception of one woman of light colored skin that had underneath the hood of her heavy coat what looked like either a knitted hat or knit band that covered her forehead and came to her auburn eyebrows. She was the only one that was wearing anything other than a heavy winter coat with the hoods worn pulled up. Why this stuck out to me so much is because the knit hat was a vibrant orchid color. As I watched her walk away, my thought was, "Her mind is the only one covered and is different than the other people here that seemed to be all dressed the same and walking the same with almost no variances in them." As I continued to watch the people further, I realized no one was talking, laughing, or interacting with one another. Besides all their clothing being similar, they were all wearing dark rubber boots. They all walked with both hands inside their pockets, never taking them out the whole time I was observing them.

Another peculiar thing I noticed was the people were all walking in two groups and in only two directions in a wide street-like area. Yet I saw no vehicles at this time. It was almost as if they were observing the rules of a road one does when driving, and applying it to their walking. The first group or set of people were all going toward the right or the east of me. No one varied or broke off from the group. They just continued to walk toward the right direction together. This group of people were the furthest from me. So if I was standing on a road, looking straight down it, this first group of people were walking on the right side headed straight toward me. The next group of people were walking on the left side of this wide street-like area and were walking in the opposite or the reverse direction of the first group of people. So, they are walking away from me. This would also be considered the west or left side from where I'm standing. I had the knowing that those that were walking in the right direction were actually heading somewhere. While the people on the left were returning from some place. Still the oddity of it to me seemed to be that everybody on the right and left, no matter what direction they were headed were all basically walking at the same speed, the same pace no matter whether they were young or old with all being dressed almost identical except for the one woman with the orchid purple knit hat.

I looked down and I studied the ground. I saw that it doesn't look like a paved street I normally see in the US, it looked like a very wide area that could possibly be driven on if allowed by four or more cars at one time. It's made with some small red tinted or rose tinted pebbles or rocks that look like they've been secured by a concrete type substance or something similar. I began to examine the various buildings near the street and I noticed a lot of them had bright colors, more colorful than the ordinary colors most buildings have. But there were also in the distance some of the duller color buildings like seen in most cities. "Strange, this is all very strange," I said to myself as I observed all of this. Then I asked out loud, "Why out of all these people walking back and forth in two unified groups is there only one person with any type of variance to their clothing? What makes this woman different than the others in this far away land who is wearing the orchid knit hat?" I pondered on this thought for a moment as I watched both groups begin to leave out of my sight at almost the same time. It's like their departure and return were synchronized together so that they would exit this area at the same time no matter what direction they were walking. The area appears empty now and I realized somehow my eyes have been able to see past my normal line of sight which is where most of the colorful buildings I saw were grouped closer together. The area is completely deserted now as I looked around still puzzled by all I have seen.

"Jesus Christ my love, Sweet Holy Ghost Spirit, what's going on here? This is not the actions of a normal city or town. The people were subdued, walking together almost like in a trance. They were all dressed basically the same in their dark, drab type of clothing except for the one woman with the orchid knit headband. It was almost as if their actions were being synchronized and controlled either by fear or something else," I finished saying in concern as I looked up to the heavens waiting to see if my lovely Jesus Christ, or Sweet Holy Ghost Spirit would answer me. "You have perceived correctly Daughter of Zion," I heard a voice I recognized as the Sweet Holy Ghost Spirit's say to me swiftly. "It is not fear that controls them, for that stage has already passed. This is one of the fallen ones' technology that when newly activated by the internet and cell towers, in combination with the Bluetooth technology and such like that has been, and is still being tested among select populations and chosen areas. This Bluetooth frequency and wavelength technology and other such like technology has been in place and working above ground for several years now. Which is why this newly activated technology modified from them has been allowed to remain in operation. This is after Jesus Christ, after Yeshua Ha' Maschiach passed judgment for the use and removal from the fallen ones' technology and the evil technology further created from the original by man not already in use in the above world of mankind. Since these things were already in operation above ground and water and the plans were also above ground for the modified technology it has been allowed to come to fruition in its usage in the kingdom of darkness."

"Oh no, Holy Spirit!" I exclaimed. "What exactly is it doing to the people and how is it controlling them? It is controlling them isn't it, this new technology?" I asked my Friend and Teacher Holy Ghost Spirit. "Daughter of Zion, yes it is controlling the people. No longer is your world looking at the invasion alone of nano particle technology, the black goo enhancements and other technology that's been illegally and wrongfully placed inside the people and inhabitants of this world, even in the below hidden underground facilities and cities. Your world's inhabitants are now faced with an invasive parasite placed in food, water, clothing, in the land, waters, the sky, and such like that when it touches something with living tissue and cells, meaning something that is alive, they begin to burrow through the barriers of the outer body. This would be the outer flesh, the skin or like the layer of a plant stem. Once inside they will multiply because they're created in the labs to be asexual. This means to divide itself into two parts creating a duplicate of itself and will continue to replicate itself over and over again," He finished saying. "Jesus Christ, oh, Father God, what do we do? Can this be stopped?" It was the Holy Spirit who responded to my questions again. "Daughter of Zion hear Me, hear what I say and learn. These parasites store within their bodies pathogens and mutagens that once it enters a body it begins reconstructing the DNA of what it has entered. This was originally created after so many became aware of the evil uses of the nanobots and nanoparticle technology, plus the graphene. Even though nanotechnology has been presented to the world for usage in medical procedures and such like other helpful technology."

"Let me remind you how the nanotechnology, graphene and other such like work together. The graphene, also called the black goo because of its demon DNA, that is really the DNA from the fallen angels can easily be manipulated by those in the spirit realm who practice witchcraft to do evil. Some other ways of control by nanotechnology in the form of bots and such like that the evil ones hide inside the payload of whatever these types of technology or nanobots are supposedly delivering into the body are through air waves, frequencies, sound, connection to the computer world and the internet. After these types of things have been delivered into the body by various ways of administration, that person's body can then be controlled by steady manipulation from the demon possessed AI systems or even by a controller at a computer terminal. They can manipulate man's thoughts through this technology, placing suggestions and thoughts into their mind from the many bots now throughout their body and mind that can lead that person into sin, but also into aggressive or abnormal behavior. Remember Daughter of Zion, a nanobot can be smaller than the top of a straight pin's head. Because of their tiny size, millions can be placed into a small area such as inside a drop of liquid or medicines. With this there can be millions of tiny voices being sent to a person's mind or by computer commands and suggestions all at the same time."

"Some people, in past testings, have thought they were hearing the voice of God or some other type of divine entity when their minds were manipulated and being controlled by this nano technology which caused them to do things normally they wouldn't do. What the kingdom of darkness and mankind have created together is a system that can be used in multiple ways and once it's delivered inside the world's population, they will be able to deceive and manipulate the majority of the earth's people in mass quantities. This is instead of their abusive use of this nano wave mind technology already in years of use which was only able to target one or two targets at a time, like with the US's actual voice of God technology. This is already being tested to be used on the whole world's population." "Holy Ghost Spirit, this is not good," I exclaimed out loud as I listened to His words. His reply came swift. "No, Daughter of Zion, it is not, but it is in fact a reality. This type of voice and mind wave frequency manipulation technology is already in the hands of many countries in the world today. But this new parasite technology, it is only in a few nations hands," He finished saying in an audible voice to me. I looked around at the still deserted area of buildings which was odd too as I pondered on what my beloved Teacher Holy Ghost Spirit had told me.

Finally I asked, "What does it all mean though?" "It means Daughter of Zion, this created parasite that multiplies quickly contains inside them the graphene and the nano technology as nano particles, bots or other forms for the payload of the parasite's mutagens and pathogens to be distributed in trial runs into people of the world. They have been successful in manipulating and controlling most of the people who have been unknowingly participating in them. I say again, Daughter of Zion, that this parasite technology is not available in its full potential for all nations but only a few. Yet the distribution of the parasites by various means across the world has already begun with the air being their most successful avenue for the parasite delivery. Should this technology prove to be unsuccessful and the parasites do not meet their full expected potential as they had originally intended, then the enemy has determined they will at least still be able to use them successfully when they activate them by remote to deliver and release the pathogens. Once released into a person's body, the pathogens will begin killing and reduce the population's size in the world even further. It is an evil, wicked plan," He said. I listened in horror when I realized the possible high number of people who could die from such evil technology as this parasite one.

Sweet Holy Ghost Spirit began speaking again in a calm voice that helped to sooth my distress even with the horrible information He was sharing with me. "Through technology, manipulation, and inserting of thoughts into the minds of men, with the addition of changing their DNA into one which the demons can access through the black goo graphene's presence, and by other means, what you have witnessed here was a group of people whose minds and bodies were being parasitically controlled. Not only are they controlled by frequencies, waves, sound and such like but by the changing of the DNA with the mutagens and pathogens and other combined technology. One of the reasons this parasite has been created is so they can still maintain control of the people and the Earth's inhabitants when the Black Magnetic Rock Mountain shatters inside the 3 days of darkness. It's after this occurrence in the Earth in which the atmospheric things once found in creation are no longer the same such as sound, tones, frequencies and such like. They have been ordered to be removed from lucifer's dark kingdom above and below the surface of the Earth and inside the whole created firmament at the appointed time of Jesus Christ, the Righteous Judge's command," He finished saying.

"I think I understand it," I said quickly. "When the Magnetic Black Rock Mountain shatters and all the atmospherical things like sound, waves, frequencies, notes and such like change or forever disappear, the enemy has created what they hope is an alternate means to still manipulate and control the world's population for antichrist's reign in the world of man. At least for those who don't have faith in their God and Lord Jesus Christ to protect them. Or unless for some reason they are to endure it partially like Job was tried," I said quickly." "Daughter of Zion," Holy Spirit said slowly in a serious tone of voice, "anything that inhibits or hampers man's ability to choose, to use his free will is evil. This is not something the Holy God of Heaven, Just and True would allow for one of His true children to fully endure because this allowance to take fully away man's ability to make his choices in his or her mind, in the soul's mind where one communicates with the Almighty God of Heaven through His Son is only done when one is operating with sin in their lives. Sin in one's life opens the doors, the access that grants legal access into a person's life by the enemy. What you have witnessed is complete control of all, save one when the process and mutagens inside the body were completed. The parasite also releases a highly synthesized endorphin so that those not protected fully by Yeshua Ha' Maschiach, Jesus Christ's Blood or command do not realize what is being done to them." "How horrible!" I exclaimed. "Jesus Christ, please, You've got to stop this, and if not please help us, because I realize there are allowances and allowed spaces in people's lives for the kingdom darkness to operate in and do horrendous evil things when people sin and people love to sin, but You are merciful." I heard my lovely Jesus Christ reply this time audibly from the heavens, the sky above.

"Daughter, Daughter, Daughter of Mine who weeps often before Me for the people, My children. Hear what I say. There is always hope for I am hope and the true power in control in this world. Remember, Daughter, remember the woman among these others who was in the trials, yet she was different. She wore the bright orchid knitted headband hat around her head, hear what I say. She is one who is called to be Mine. She is one, who although still in sin has been made to endure such wrongs against her free will. Her soul's mind I can still reach through any black void. I can reach through any chemical, any mutation. I can reach through time and space for I know who My Father has given Me. The reason I have shown you the one among the many in the same current condition and whose predetermined outcome appears to be the same as the others, is for you to know I have the power to break through and free her mind. I can and will speak with her as the Holy Spirit moves and reveals her sins to her. When she repents of her sins and accepts Me into her heart as her Lord...and she will, for she is Mine already for My kingdom,...I shall heal her mind and body."

"What most don't realize, Daughter of Mine, is that as much as the enemy tries to change and mutate the DNA of all I have created by Father's command, they can never do so fully. For Father and I are one and I exist in all things. My essence and spirit is in everything, so even the very substances and chemicals, though the fallen ones created them to be evil in nature, are still from originally what I have created and I am found inside all created things. All Daughter, every single thing inside your world's firmament. Nothing can be created that I do not exist in My essence inside it. Nothing cannot be changed that I am not inside it for My Father, My DNA is inside everything as is rightfully Ours to do as Creator of your world and all that's in it. Even the angels that rebelled and chose to live a life of sin, I created by Father's command. Though once pure and holy, they have now taken on the vile nature of the sin and evil they love, yet I still exist inside them as well because I am the original Creator. My Father's Name is engraved and ingrained into all of creation. I know, I placed it there. So it is but a small thing for Me to set a mind free from all their small abilities through witchcraft and technology for I am God the Creator. I am My Father. We are One yet separate. It is nothing for Me to break all the chains and bondages to the soul who cries out to Me in true repentance of heart out of the depths of sin's captivity. Although the fallen ones think they know and have studied man's mind to the fullest, they are sadly mistaken. By one command I can reach any mind at any time, for I am God. They are not." He stopped speaking for a moment and I remained silent as His words sank into My mind and Spirit. "What an enormous, mighty, All Powerful God we truly serve," was all I could think to say.

After a few more minutes of silence, I looked up to the heavens and said softly, "Jesus." "Yes Daughter," came His quick reply. "What do we do about the parasites? How do we fight this technology?" "You don't Daughter, I do! What you need to do is stay in My Word for there is protection for your mind when you do so. Stay in prayer and worship. Walk in faith in Me your God without doubt or wavering and I will meet you at your point of faith. The point where you believe I can move for you. The point where the answer you receive will be according to your faith you have in Me you're All-powerful God to perform such a thing on your behalf or not. It takes unwavering faith for the promises to be received. For he who waivers is double-minded and unstable, unreliable in all his or her ways," my lovely Jesus Christ said. "I understand this, for it's written in Your Holy Word." "Yes, Daughter it is," He said softly.

Then He continued speaking again. "This parasite technology is simply another scheme, ploy, device and plan of the enemy. You have all power over the enemy. It's through Me. It's through My Name, My Blood, My power that you're able to fight the enemy. When you utilize My Word, when you stand in faith without fear and doubt, I rise up in You and defeat all the enemies you face. I am this kind of God for all My beloved children. After these words I awoke.
