

The Elon Musk's Neuralink Dream 7-9-26@12:09 AM Shared 7-22-26

I dreamed again and it discerned true and given from You, my lovely Jesus Christ. My Lord Jesus Christ, please don't let me write one word, or description that's not from You. Write through me the truth of all You have shown me I ask in Your infallible Name Jesus Christ."
"Done, Daughter, done, now write."

I dreamed I was looking at an advertisement for Elon Musk's neuralink. It was an advertisement on the internet that no matter what website or link I went to, it was displayed more prominently than any other. I studied it closely and then began to read what it said out loud.

"Coming soon and available for all! Internet access through the tried and proven true Elon Musk's neuralink. A company, a name you can trust and rely on. You've read about its success in the recovery of many destabilizing illnesses. Now Elon Musk, founder of the neuralink will be offering it for those who want to step into the future and have internet access capabilities through his neuralink interface. All who choose this new futuristic step will have all the capabilities within their mind's reach to do all that has been priorly done through computers, cell phones and all types of electronic technology. "

"The neurolink shines above all other internet technology. For all who choose to take the bold leap of faith into the future will never have to be concerned with an internet bill, because Elon Musk is providing free internet through his starlink satellites for all who participate in this neuralink internet technology. Be prepared to have your world changed and your lives made simpler when all your activities once done on the internet can now be done by a single thought."

"Woah!" I said to myself as I pushed myself away from the computer and desk I was sitting at almost in disgust. "Why would Elon Musk do such a thing? Why the great push for the neuralink to be made so readily available to the public, when it isn't necessarily needed for the mark of the beast to work correctly? The mark of the beast, antichrist's mark will still work with or without someone having a neuralink inside their head, my lovely Jesus Christ has told me often. What's going on Lord Jesus Christ? After all, Elon Musk is antichrist's left hand man who handles all his technology, the beast systems' governmental preparations including the mark of the beast. That's why he appears so successful and earning lots and lots of money, when really the numbers are reports are fixed and the funds being placed into his worldwide account are to do antichrist's bidding in preparation for his rule of the world. While Barack Obama, a man who operates heavily in the antichrist spirit...so heavily he's often mistaken for the antichrist like others, when in reality he's his forerunner and false prophet to come, he's his right hand man. These are the two that stand on each side of the antichrist. "Hmmm," I said as I stood up and looked out the window of this room that appears to be an office type area, but I didn't recognize its furnishings or the location, not even the computer I have been using.

"Why, Lord Jesus Christ, are they pushing so hard to make the neuralink available to the public for internet access?" I asked out loud. When no answer came, I began to walk casually around the room. I noticed a stackable paper holder that looked like it had three shelves to it. It was sitting by a large printer with a scanner and copier made into one machine. I felt compelled to walk over to this area. As I did, I noticed beneath some of the papers on the top shelf of the stackable paper holder was a bright, blood red folder. "Now that red is so bright you can't help but notice it," I thought to myself when I looked at the red folder. I moved the top sheets of paper off of the folder then picked it up. On the front, written in what looked like black marker were these words, "The answer folder."

I said thoughtfully, "Let's see what kind of answers you hold inside you, shall we?" I took the folder back to the desk and laid it to the right of the computer. The desk was wide enough for me to do so, as well as there being enough space under the desk for the chair to move easily to the right. I said a quick prayer in my lovely Jesus Christ's Name, then opened up the blood red folder. There was a stack of papers inside it. I picked up the top one and it said, 'For the answers you seek, for the questions you've asked. This is exactly what you need.' "Okay, Jesus Christ my Love," I said out loud, "let's see if this folder really does contain the answers that I'm seeking." I laid the top page aside and picked up the next page quickly. I began to read and realized it appeared to be some kind of report about testing being done and completed using Elon Musk's neuralinks. "Well then," I said hopefully, "maybe it will have some, if not all the answers I'm seeking. Holy Ghost Spirit, sweet Teacher and Friend, in Jesus Christ's Name lead me to the needed truth," I prayed out loud. Then I began to read again. The first paragraph was a normal preliminary of testing procedures laid out in steps. I read a little further until finally it began to get really interesting.

"Our studies showed that our chosen one's mark of loyalty called the mark of the beast in the written Scripture of Truth by the God of Heaven can still be received and fully applied with someone who does not have an implanted neuralink. Once the final frequency is received there will be no foreseen hindrances that we cannot control or handle. The success that's been found with the installed neuralinks in our studies so far shows 98% of those implanted were able to more easily interface with the AI systems for a smoother transition, connection and interconnection into our chosen one's collective, hive mind. The neuralink makes the transition from a person having one mind alone to being connected to many, swifter. All the needed software and technology we already have hidden inside the neuralinks' programming and will not be fully activated inside their brains, their minds until the mark of loyalty has been taken by choice by the individual person. The neuralinks that shall be offered shall already have the 6g, 7g and lower capabilities and the latest technology that made its way above ground before the Nazarene's judgment was issued against our kingdom, forbidding any other technology from the underworlds or sky world of our kingdom of being brought and used in man's world. The neuralinks shall still include the nanotechnology, graphene and the other prior parts of the neuralink that have proved successful in our past trial runs."

"Wow!" I said as I paused reading for a few moments as I looked down at the contents of the blood red folder. Finally I said, "It does appear this red folder may hold the answers or at least some I was seeking. Thank you Father God," I said as I looked down at the stack of papers still unread. I flipped the page I have been reading over and picked up the next one. I quickly began to read its contents out loud. 'Strategies of advancement before the neuralink is fully activated when connected to the chosen one's mark of loyalty, the mark of the beast,' was the title on this page. "We will offer the neuralink as a way for the people to be able to connect and interact on the internet without any other devices, computers, or such like technology. We shall also include for the world's public free internet access with the purchase and installation of Elon Musk's neuralinks through his star link satellite network allowing us hidden, full control and monitoring of all they do. We will also offer with the neuralink, storage space in the cloud where they can do every task they did before but through their mind and the neuralink. They can check their bank accounts, pay their bills, schedule appointments or cancel them, go shopping, listen to music, and even watch a movie through the interface of the mind through these Elon Musk's neuralinks. What more could an enslaved world want?"

"In addition, unbeknown to those who purchase and have installed the Elon Musk neuralink into their heads, shall be the programmable software, nanotechnology and other programs that shall begin immediately making almost silent, repetitive, subliminal messages that include for them to take the mark of the beast, messages that ensure them it is needed and good, and to reject the Nazarene and the God of Heaven as their sovereign God and Lord. We will have these messages issued in a constant bombardment of suggestions in our favor like a barrage of attacks. Like shots fired from a machine gun, but our gun will never need to be reloaded because it will be in a continual software looping cycle for all who take the neuralink, then eventually take the mark of the beast. As the time of the release of the mark of the beast draws closer, and the chosen one sits in the world's seat of power, these messages shall increase in their volume. This has been proven to be a very effective means of manipulating the minds of men, women and children of the world causing various side effects including confusion of the mind. Enhance all this with some spells and vexation and we have a winning technique that has been proven tried and true throughout history for our dark kingdom." "They're evil, so evil," I muttered under my breath as I continued to read out loud but on the next page.

"The neuralink technology conditions the brain in advance to get used to the internet activity involved when one takes the chosen one's mark of loyalty. Without this preconditioning, those who have weaker minds have shown a weakness of having their minds go into madness as they are unable to process the full brain activity when finally joined to the collective hive mind. Sometimes it's only temporary, while other times the results have been permanent. It is only a small percentage, and the damaged goods can be used as food later when the famine increases to its full height. Therefore, it is this study's findings that the neuralink is not a mandatory part needed to be implemented in advance for those who choose the mark of loyalty. Nor was it reported to cause any type of the rejection of the mark of loyalty when taken in trial runs by the majority of those in our preliminary and final testing. Because of the quicker, smoother transition in less time with the added neuralink into the chosen one's collective hive mind than those who do not have one, we will begin pushing the neuralink to the public offering the many wonders it holds for them."

"One important observation that was noted in our studies has shown when testing human subjects that did not have any type of Internet service available to them during the trial periods, the implementation of the nanotechnology in the form of particles and bots did not lose their connection to the collective hive mind. This is with or without the neuralink and was noted as due in part to the presence of the graphene also called the black goo found inside the payload of each nanobot or particle carrier that had been distributed into the body of the subjects tested. The graphene contains inside it the DNA of the dark lords known as demon DNA. One side effect that has been noted is that because of all the demon DNA released into our test subjects along with other pharmakeia, and drugs, they have become more spiritually aware. This will be used to our chosen one's advantage and benefit too, because if it's evil of origin like the graphene inside the subjects, then we can easily and legally manipulate and even control it for our kingdom's advantage."

I stopped reading for a moment as all the dots began to connect one to another to the questions I have been asking. Yet I felt I should still continue to read, which I did quickly, beginning from where I just left off. It said, "All test results and studies have been forwarded to the dark lords and the chosen one and waiting on orders of when to begin the release of the Elon Musk's neuralink campaign. Further testing shall continue until the actual release of the mark of loyalty. More test subjects are needed. You are to begin gathering the willing but also acquire the unwilling which has been our practice from the start. The orders have been sent out, the next testing shall begin within the next month ahead. Please wait for further instructions," it finished saying.

I flipped to the next page hurriedly to find these words written in bold letters. "This is why Elon Musk's neuralink will be pushed and made available to the public, although it's not a mandatory part for the mark of the beast to be successfully received and implemented. These answers were supplied to you from the, 'For the answers you seek, for the question you've asked. This is exactly what you need,' blood, red folder provided to you from Heaven's forces on order of the King of kings Jesus Christ, Yeshua Ha' Maschiach." After I read these words, I awoke suddenly out of this dream, and began to pray in my lovely Jesus Christ's Name.
