

A War of Nations 1-6-20@4:32 AM Journal Entry

“You must write Child, every word that I speak to you, holding nothing back unless led by My Holy Spirit to do so for there is a reason, a purpose for everything and all is ordained for a divine, Heavenly purpose by My Father God. War is coming Child, and as you are now aware of, it will not be just your nation, but a war among nations for America must pay for her sins of the many, the people done by themselves, to themselves, and to those of others! The preacher and your sister were right Child, when they said that this was not the wrath of God that is occurring for that Child, will be unleashed upon the earth at its designated time which is that which is called by Father God and Me as the time of judgement, or even as the tribulation period which soon will be pronounced upon the earth for the earth has already been judged. The people of the earth as a whole have been found guilty of their many unrepented sins and the sentence upon the earth has been passed and all that is left is the actual physical participation of the sentence of these judgements that shall be called forth upon the earth and its inhabitants by Father God, Himself.

Run ye and howl ye inhabitants of the earth for times of great woes are starting to befall you and war among nations is imminent. In 3 times, 3 periods of months the declaration will be made of war against your once great nation as Persia rises from the ashes of oppression and takes a strong stand against your nation. The bear is soon to follow and not far behind. These things shall come to pass as the North, the King from the East begins to stir from its docile position. A position of deception for many of your years. A position of false peace as the amassing of armies great and small armed for the cause rises to the occasion for such a time as this. There will be more Child, more will join. The queen on the right, from the east shall rise and join your nation, a people once great in Me. All has been ordained by Me and that of My Father for I am Jesus, Son of the Most High and living God and these things shall come to pass and it will be quickly, rapidly speeding toward the madness of war. For war is made when men are full of hatred and distrust among each other. Do not let your right hand know what your left foot is doing for betrayal is all around and some who pledge allegiance to your nation shall not hold true to their word, their spoken promises. Upon enticing words and threats they shall withhold support remaining neutral as the war progresses.

It is time Child, to warn the people so that they can prepare while there is but a short time to do so but more importantly it is a time for repentance. Make ye your heart right with Me and you will not have to face the atrocities of war alone for I will be with you everywhere you go. I will never leave you nor forsake you when you make Me the Lord of your life. I will guide you through the leading of My Holy Spirit every step of the way and although not everyone will survive the horrors of war, those of Mine shall be with Me when their time of passing comes. Fear not those who can kill the body but Him, Father God who has the power, Him alone to damn the soul to the eternal lake of fire which will be more horrific than all the wars and end time judgements yet to come, all together. It's a place of unspeakable torment and despair for you will never, ever feel the presence of Me or that of My Father ever again and without love, for We are love, you will be found with unending despair, hopelessness and torture with no means of escape. Death is no longer available and your new body has been created to endure the flames of the lake of fire so it will never actually fully be consumed and burned away by the fire and the worms shall forever eat at your decaying flesh! Woe, I say Woe to you, all who refuse My love for although war is imminent upon you for many so is death, For death is appointed unto all people and is no respecter of persons taking young and old at their designated time called by My Father Jehovah God.

O' little Children of Mine, cry out loud for your lost, all the lost, for the rulers of your nations are full of deceit being deceived by the greatest deceiver of them all. Lucifer... satan is behind much, much of the chaos of war allowed by My Father. All this must come to pass for the time of judgment to break forth upon the earth after My returning to prepare the way for the rise to power of the man antichrist who is presently being prepared by satan for his allotted time to rule upon the earth. Get ready Child, but through it all you must never lose sight of Me and the need to reach out to the lost and dying. But be careful Child, for desperate times will make for desperate people. Use the discernment that I have placed within your life and heed, always heed the advice from My precious Holy Spirit whether it be a gentle whisper or an all out smack on the back! Be cautious always but be grateful and thankful for the many blessings you still find within your lives. The hidden nuggets like in My word or that of a hug from your child's arms. Never take for granted this gift of life for at any moment Father God can withhold His breath of life from you and death will come for you as well No one is guaranteed another day or has prior knowledge of their allotted time on earth unless given to him by My Father."
