

Journal entry 12-10-19@3:40 AM Did I Miss it???

I awoke to the sound of my alarm this morning, something I rarely do. Usually the sound of My Savior's sweet voice is enough to get me out of the bed. As I laid there momentarily, I started ever so slightly to doze back into sleep when I heard Him whisper, "Come," and it jolted me completely out of sleep. I sat up and said, "I'm up Lord, don't leave me behind! I'm coming! I don't want to miss Your returning." Because when I heard "Come," for a brief moment I thought Jesus had come back and I did not want to be left behind.

There was a feeling of eager anticipation and wonder, but even a brief moment of sheer panic for I thought I had missed His return by briefly dozing back off to sleep. When He comes back, there will be no time for hesitation. You must be ready now, for no man knows the day or the hour when our Lord shall return!!!
