

Costa Rica 1-30-20@4:53 AM Journal Entry

“Costa Rica needs to be watched, Child.” “Costa Rica, where’s that Lord? Is it along the coastline of Rio DeJaneiro in Brazil? Is that in the south Lord?” “It is Child, to the south. They are a people faithful in their beliefs and their production of food and even coffee will make them a valuable asset to either side should they decide to cast their lot to one side or the other. Currently they are undecided, because this island type atmosphere among their people leaves little to be desired for them to face the harsh reality of a possibility of war among the nations.”