

Jesus' Trip into Hell! 12-1-19@4:23 PM

“I’m here God and I want to thank You for Your sweet presence once again within my home while I was praying.” “I come down many times while you are praying Child, for there are truly very few who seek Me whole heartedly in this world that I have created in this day and time.” “It breaks my heart to hear this Jesus for my time spent with You is what I cherish the most about each day whether it’s in prayer, reading Your Word, or just fellowshiping with You. I can’t imagine or comprehend how Your own people can go through this life without seeking You, Your wisdom and guidance for every step they take, or are going to take along this journey of life that we all must face.” “It’s not difficult to understand, for they have allowed the cares of this life to overtake them and overwhelm them. Instead of turning to Me, they turn to their own self, their own abilities to try to resolve the issues of their lives. It is a recipe for disaster as you sometimes say Child. For man does not possess within himself the ability to combat the power of sin, the influence from the enemy.”

“To try to face satan, the enemy within your own earthly self is like trying to stop a steam roller from rolling over and destroying you by verbal commands only. To stop the steam roller you have to actually, physically climb into it and turn the key which shuts off the ignition. To defeat the enemy, you must come against him through My Name, plead My Blood and quote My Word. You must resist the devil, and he will flee from those who truly love and serve Me with all their hearts. A true child of Mine has nothing to fear from the enemy for he is already a defeated foe. When after My death upon Calvary, I descended into hell where there I took the keys from death, hell, and the grave... satan’s own kingdom, and claimed them as My own. While there, I liberated the lost souls in hell that were there who wanted to be free after preaching the gospel for three days to them. All who received My words, received Me, I took back with Me into Heaven, leaving only those who chose to remain in hell.”

“I was in no hurry! I was in complete control of the situation, having subdued satan and the fallen ones by My power alone. It was no covert mission. I did not enter hell secretly in hopes of acquiring the keys without incident. I went in boldly through the front gates and no demon in hell or satan himself had the power to stop Me nor will they ever have! If My people, My chosen people would come to the full realization of the power and capability that they possess in Me, they would become unstoppable just as My church, My true church is supposed to be. For I am the most powerful force in the universe and beyond and My powers should not be taken lightly. I have given this same power to My true believers and satan... the enemy, knowing that he couldn’t defeat it directly, set about deceiving My churches into believing these powers, these gifts are no longer operational today. Therefore causing a great defeat for My people who upon not seeing these gifts in operation, should have immediately sought My face and found out why, but instead they quietly sat by and accepted this lie fed by satan to the elders of the churches.”

“Instead of searching it out in My Word and seeking confirmation from Me one way or the other, they chose to be complacent, and the enemy assumed the beginning of its manipulation and control of the churches leaving what is now just an empty shell living on the glory of days gone by. This is not how I ordained it to be yet I knew in advance, a long time prior that this is how it would be but now, now is the time for My church, My true church to come back to life and to arise from the ashes of disillusioned hopes, and that of shattered dreams. To shake herself off and become My beloved bride, My people once again, for time is drawing near to a close.”

“There must be one last great awakening, a time of refreshing for all people, the lost, the sick, the depressed and possessed, all people to return back to Me, to their first love and I will be their Savior. I will bring them hope, peace, joy and love. I will wipe away the hurts of the past and cleanse them from all sins. I will pour out My Holy Spirit in abundance upon all who come seeking Me both young and old for I am no respecter of persons and what I do for one, I will do for others. I will pour out My Spirit in great depths but for a short brief period of time. Many lost will be saved and many will return unto Me and I will reach out to all nations far and wide but just as quickly as it has come, it will go. For the ways of most men are wicked and evil and they will bring great persecution against this great move from Father God. But rest assured, We will accomplish and reach all who We have set out to reach for not one of My little ones given to Me by the Father will be lost!”

“Get ready Child, for these things are soon in the making and I, I will return quickly upon the earth to claim My bride, My chosen people. All whose hearts are pure and adorned in spotless white for I am not coming for a bride dressed in filthy garments. All these will be rejected, left to face the end time, the time of judgement while I, I will be celebrating at the marriage feast with those of My bride who were ready and eagerly watching for My returning. I’m coming Child, I’m coming and it won’t be much longer for all of Heaven is prepared to receive My bride. They are just waiting for Father God to speak the command for Me to go get My children, My bride just as I am. Tell My people, My true church that I am definitely coming and their wait is almost over. Read the signs of the time, for they have all but been completed. I am coming and it’s going to catch many unaware who let down their guard, their faith in Me and chose rather to believe in a more friendly version of My Word. A man made doctrine, a doctrine of devils straight out of the pits of hell!”

“Sound the warning. Cry Child, while there is still time, for there is still ample room for all to come to My cross and receive My gift of Salvation and all who stay under My blood, I shall give them a crown of Life and an everlasting eternity with Me in Heaven where no sin can ever enter in. Tell them Child, tell them all. Tell them for soon I will return and if your heart has the least minute trace of sin in it, you will be left behind! Repent Child... Child, repent daily as oft as needed so no blemish of sin can be found on you and pray, Child, pray often and I will lead you and My people in all truth and righteousness. Reach out, Child, reach for the lost for this is My desire, My true wish for you to reach as many as you possibly can whether it be one at a time or several. For each soul is priceless to Me, a treasure above all other treasures. Work the field Child and tell My people it’s time to bring in the harvest for the fields are white and even now the day is far spent and there’s little time left to work. Tell them Child, tell them all. Tell them now for now is the day of Salvation at hand and is upon you.”
