

A Lying Spirit For Manhattan Dream 10-13-26@11:02 AM Shared 10-14-26

Jesus Christ my Lord, my Love. I am here. I dreamed last night, Lord Jesus Christ once again, and it has discerned true from You and also when others tried, tested, and discerned it. I asked You in Your Great Name please help me write this out exactly as You have given it to me." "I will Daughter of Mine, now write "

I dreamed last night Lord Jesus Christ I was in the Courts of Heaven once again, but this time I was only an observer. It didn't look like the same area I normally have been brought to, but I knew somehow it was still part of Heaven's Courts. The first thing I really saw was Father God sitting on His throne and all His glory and Majesty. I was struck by His holiness. All around Him shone a glorious light but His face, His face was so brightly lit I could not make out any of His facial features.

I could see His hair was white pure white as snow or fresh wool. Part of it is seeable near his shoulders where the glorious light around His face wasn't as bright . He's so holy, holy and beautiful at the same time. I was seeing a side view of Him on His throne. I saw beside Him many Holy Angels, too many to number on the left and right side of Him.

I turned to look toward my left and saw there was an assortment of a few evil demons standing before Him. This was not what I expected to see, but Jesus Christ my Love has always warned me to expect the unexpected. There were Holy Angels on each side of them. I knew somehow and in part I believe it was from reading the book of Job in chapters 1 & 2, that this was the time these demons from the kingdom of darkness had to stand and present themselves before Father God.

I heard Father God's voice firm, strong, powerful, yet also gentle, ask out loud. "Who will go for Me to the Iranians holding the nuclear devices for detonation in Manhattan and be a persuasive voice so these devices will be detonated? Who will be a persuasive voice in the ears of the man of sin and his council of advisors? For he is currently seeking to look for an alternate date, thinking he can outwit and out maneuver My command. It seems he doesn't like the fact that I am the same, never changing as I always have been and have sent warning of what is coming through My Son to Our children, so they and others needed can be prepared."

I could tell Father God had been addressing the demons before Him. I saw one step forward. A wispy black shadowy form with red eyes that had the appearances of a snake. He said in an evil voice, "I will go and be a persuasive voice, a lying spirit in their ears and in the ears of the chosen one, the man of sin and his council of advisors. I will go just as I did to Ahab when you asked the same question years ago and many other times after. This is my specialty, and I have no qualms of doing this even to those of our own kingdom without my brothers and sisters knowing," the demon finished saying. But this time the demon didn't laugh at being able to perform an evil action, like I've seen them do so many times before. This one was serious as he stood before Father God in all His majestic, glorious splendor.

"Go then, go now!" I heard Father God say in a gentle voice that somehow also seemed to sound like thunder. "Go and see that this task is done and the evil city of Babylon's Manhattan falls." I heard the demon reply, "It will be done. No one who's not protected by You or Your Son can resist my lies and enticing words," he said confidently to Father God. Then he bowed his head to Father God on His throne, then I woke up from this dream.
