

Lucifer's Script, Tartaria, the Anunnaki & Matrix Dream 5-13-26 to 5-18-26 Shared 5-20-26

I dreamed again, my lovely Jesus Christ. On 5-13-26, I woke up at 5:03 AM with this dream. I have prayed about it and it discerns true as being from You. As I laid in bed in awe and wonder at You Father God, and all I had been shown, I went back to sleep and dreamed it again, waking up with it at 7:04 AM. Since then I have dreamed it over with each night having more added to it with the last night being 5-18-26 for having this dream. You have answered so many of my questions. Thank You so much my lovely Jesus Christ. Sweet Holy Ghost Spirit, beloved Friend and Teacher, please don't let me write, or speak one word that's not from my lovely Jesus Christ, Father God or You. Don't let me describe it in any way that would leave anyone to believe contrary to what the truth of Jesus Christ has inside this dream. I ask all this in Your great Name standing on John 14:13-14; Matthew 7:7 and Jeremiah 33:3."

"I won't, Daughter of Zion, but know this. There will be many, but not all, that will reject this dream, because what you have been shown is not what they have chosen to believe in themselves, or what they have chosen as the meaning found in the Scripture of Truth." "I understand. Does this mean I'm to share this dream too and not keep it to my son and myself?" "It does, Daughter of Zion. That's what it means." "Okay, I will do as I'm instructed. I pray it brings glory to Father God, my lovely Jesus Christ and You, and reveals more of the truth of things hidden, and what's been veiled over by the enemy's deception." "The truth shall prevail, Daughter of Zion, now write." "Yes, I will. Thank You sweet Holy Ghost Spirit and Friend." "You are welcome Daughter of Zion."

I heard, "In the beginning, God created the Heavens and the Earth," as I went into this dream. I found my son and I sitting at a table. Laying on the small kitchen table was an open Holy Bible. My son was reading out loud Genesis chapter 1. It was his voice I heard at the start of this dream and he was now reading verse 2. I realized he's reading from a KJV translation so the Holy Bible on the table is not one of his, but mine. "And the Earth was without form and void; and the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters," he read out loud, then stopped. I knew in this dream we had been discussing God's creation of the Earth and how so many different views and opinions were in the world that appeared to deliberately point the creation origins of Earth away from Father God the Creator, as found written in the Word of God, to views and opinions of science and other things.

My son looked up at me as he said, "Mom, the waters of the deep they would be below and above the earth, it's firmament, wouldn't they?" "Yes, son, they would, that's my understanding," I replied. I stood up from the table and walked over to the counter nearby and began making myself a cup of coffee. Apparently I was familiar with the kitchen. My son continued to read to himself, but when I sat back down at the table with the cup of fresh coffee in hand, he looked up at me again and said, "God created this Earth and all that's in it. Some people say that we are living inside a digital simulation. You know, like in that old Matrix movie with Keanu Reeves we watched together when I was younger." I looked at him for a moment then replied in seriousness, "I do remember the movie and remember it well. The real question needing to be asked by all is would Father God, the true Creator of this world allow lucifer's kingdom to put us into such an atrocity, when we have a written account of creation in the Word of God. What Father God and His Son Jesus Christ created was real, and still is today. God spoke and life was created. You know son," I said as I looked at him intently, "the word matrix didn't originally hold the same meaning most recognize its meaning today. Today when you hear the word matrix, people automatically assume you're talking about it being a rectangular area or grid of number symbols arranged in rows or columns on a computer screen like what was seen in the matrix movie. I remember when its meaning meant, 'something in which something else originates in.' An example would be a mother's womb and the baby inside her that takes form and grows there. It's life where found inside it life of something else can be contained in. As you can see there's quite a bit of difference in the two meanings," I finish saying with a slight smile.

"Yes, there is Mom, but I don't think we're in a digital world with our minds plugged into a computer with a pretend life. Every time I pray and ask Father God if we live inside a computer generated world like the matrix movie the answer I keep getting repeatedly is, 'no.' Then the Holy Spirit takes me to Genesis chapter 1 and 2," he said. I answered him quickly. "I get the same answer and I get taken back to Scripture also, including how this world was created in such love and tender care and how it is the Lord's. He owns it all. When I seek further for His truth in this matter one of the answers I get though is we are living in a matrix of a different kind. Not a digital one, but one made of veils of deception, control, and manipulation of most of the world's people through the hands of the dark kingdom. When you step back, and look at all these things together and realize the great hatred for mankind that the fallen angels, the dark kingdom has for us, then it helps to bring everything back into a proper perspective where the Word of God says in John 10:10 the enemy, the thief comes to kill, steal and destroy. This verse literally means they come to kill us, steal from us, and to destroy us in every way possible they know how to try. This is why the veils of deception are so deep from centuries of planning and such like and spans the whole world. We're dealing with fallen angels that are eternal beings that never die. Their plans keep continuing and continuing throughout man's years on the earth, as they put out propaganda movies, books, theories with suggestions and things that make people start believing and coming into agreement with them."

"I've learned from Father God and our lovely Jesus Christ how the enemy stages things to appear like we're in a matrix of digital origin. They have their people, nephilim and even the fallen angels themselves doing this. When you read the word of God and examine it closely you'll find in the very same verse of John 10:10 where Jesus Christ warned us about the thief coming to kill still and destroy, He also says, 'I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.' More abundantly He said. Abundant life does not mean living in a false digital world that isn't real. That's a world of deception. That tells you right there it is a lie of the enemy because there's no deception or lies but only truth in Jesus Christ and Father God." "I agree," my son replied, and then said, "and the enemies are pros. They're the masters of deception and through trickery, seducing and familiar spirits, manipulation and control, they have been controlling this world behind the scenes for centuries. Most just don't know it, or don't want to know," he finished saying. "You're right son, but the enemy has many devices that when we pray and seek Jesus Christ for answers to, He'll reveal them to us, if we will listen and pay attention to what He's saying or showing us." I took a sip of my coffee and continued to speak. "There are many things that are being staged and occurring that's deliberately done to try to get people to believe we're living in a digital matrix. One of these things that people describe as experiencing is what the world calls deja vu. Deja vu is when you start to do something, and you have the feeling somehow it had already happened and you just did it before. This effect is not some kind of supernatural or psychic ability either. Some of these people are experiencing these things due to the kingdom of darkness manipulation of the spirit realm and their attempts to access the Earth's timeline inside the spiritual barrier wall. When they do this, it causes these things to occur, but also it can include such like as what has been called the Mandela effect."

"The cern facility in Switzerland and France is one of the biggest contributors to deja vu and the mandela effects when they access the spirit realm by opening portals and doorways by using frequency, soundwaves, light waves and such like to bring more fallen angels, nephilim and demon spirits through to our physical realm, our physical world. To do this, they have to penetrate and pass through the earth's preset timeline that was created for man's length of days on the earth. This is my understanding but you will have to seek Jesus Christ and Father God for yourself on this matter and then test and discern what answer you get as They have taught us to do in all things. Some of the other locations that have this type of equipment and technology have members not aware of who the fallen angels and demons really are and are deceived into believing they have been speaking with intelligent alien beings, alien life forms. Even at times the fallen ones, like in past times, will call themselves the annunaki to them. What most don't realize is that with all the wars that have been taking place now, and further ones to come as we go into the end time days, antichrist will desperately need the reinforcement of the fallen angels, nephilim and demons to maintain his control during his reign. They have known this for a very long time, so this contributes to their hard push to make the world believe in their fake alien beings from outer space, so the world's people will openly embrace and accept them," I finish saying.

My son looked at me thoughtfully then finally spoke. "I guess that's why some of them, when they first arrive, these fake aliens will appear friendly, even helpful. At least until the antichrist shows his true colors." "If not before that time," I said. "Don't forget evil is their true nature now, and many will have been confined behind the spiritual barrier wall for a very long time. It's only after the 3 days of darkness has lifted that they will make their appearance as friendly aliens. I don't think nice is what we're going to see in the end," I finished saying. "I don't either," he agreed quickly. "It's clear to see though, why the big push for the alien revelation and disclosure now in today's world with all the continual information put out by companies like NASA. These government agencies continually put out information that support aliens coming from outer space which means there cannot be a world created as the Word of God says with a firmament above. How would the aliens be able to arrive in their ships?" My son asked thoughtfully, then he looked at me and said, "I don't want any part of anything lucifer's kingdom has to offer. I don't want to believe any of his lies and accept any of his deception no matter how much it rocks my world with what I was taught growing up." "Me neither son," I replied quickly.

I looked down at the now cold, half drunk cup of coffee sitting on the table and pushed it aside. I spoke softly. "I look at our world and it's beautiful, but with all Father God and Jesus Christ have been revealing to us about how deep the fallen angels' deceptions and hold is on this world, I don't trust anything not written in the Word of God, neither any thing called the truth until its real truth is shown to me by the Sweet Holy Ghost Spirit of its true meaning, or anything else. It must prove and discern true by the ways we have been taught to test and prove these things by the written Word of God and our Lord Jesus Christ, Himself." My son looked at me and then smiled as he said, "I agree mom, but boy you get really intense when you talk about these things." I couldn't help but smile as I said, "That's because I hate deception and lies and what it does to God's created world and its people He has made." Then the scene changed.

Next scene:

I found myself laying on my bed and it appeared I was ready to go to sleep for the night. I looked up at the ceiling toward Heaven when I began speaking to Father God. "Daddy God, what is the matrix of the world? What are all the glitches? Are they simply caused from accessing the Earth's timeline and causing what we call deja vu and glitches? Is it technology being used such as project blue beam that appears as anomalies and glitches in the sky? Are some of these videos and pictures posted by agents of the kingdom of darkness that are staged such as by nephilim and witches? I really want to know what is the world's matrix of deception, if it's not a digital world? I had asked these questions out loud, then I drifted off to sleep inside this dream and begin to dream.

The dream inside the dream begins with me hearing these words. "It's a Gotham City type matrix. A world where the world is run by freaks, mutants and hybrids, with other criminals and crooks and the hero, the savior is the man Batman." In this dream, inside the dream, I began to recall how Gotham City was a place so evil it was controlled by the criminals which Batman, a human man, fought against with his brains and gadgets, but no mutated or radioactively made super human powers. Rather than just random criminals, his enemies typically were dark, psychological psychopaths in their characters, ranging from homicidal masterminds and tragic scientists, to corrupt elites and organized crime syndicates. Some of them were named the joker, Two-Face, the penguin, the Riddler, Catwoman and so many more. In this dream inside the dream, I was watching all these criminals that were controlling Gotham City manipulate the lives of the everyday people as well as the police and controlling government with Batman alone fighting against them. I woke up with a start. Again, I heard spoken to me out loud what I had heard from the start as I went into the dream, but this time I heard it spoken this way. "It's a Gotham City type matrix world where the world is run by freaks, which in the real world would be the fallen angels. The mutants, and hybrids would be the nephim and DNA altered experiments with other criminals and crooks being the groups such as the committee of 300, the council of 300, the council of 13, the hidden secret society, the illuminati, the freemasons, the governments and rulers of the world and such like. The hero, the Savior, of the world of Gotham City is a man, but He's not Batman. He is Jesus Christ who is both God and man in the flesh. He is the one true Savior of this world." Then the voice went silent.

I studied on the loud, outspoken words. "What does it mean," I asked out loud? I felt a sweet but powerful presence enter my room and I looked up to see my lovely Jesus Christ standing in the doorway. "My love!" I exclaimed excitedly as I jumped up out of the bed in my pajamas and ran over and threw my arms around Him. He wrapped His arms of love around me and held me like a father holds a beloved daughter. Tears of joy filled my heart. "This is where I belong," I thought to myself. I heard my lovely Jesus Christ say, "Yes Daughter it is." He held me for a little longer, then gently pushed me back as He said, "Daughter, let's sit. I've come to help you understand all that you've been praying, seeking, researching and fasting for the truth of." I looked up into His fiery blue eyes, "Oh how I love Him." "I love you too, My Daughter. Come now," He took my left hand in His and led me to the bed. We sat on the edge of the bed and He began to speak to me.

"You have sought Me often about if this world you live in was inside a matrix that's been created. More specifically a digital one. You became alarmed by all that you were seeing of people declaring there were glitches occurring, that when you looked and prayed, you recognized immediately as deception. You begin praying, fasting, seeking My Father and Me even more for answers. My Word says, 'Ask and you shall receive.' You know this Daughter, you quote it to Me often which brings great joy to Father and Me when one of Our children speak the Written Word from their hearts. In one sense, you do live in a matrix, but not a digital one. The matrix you're living in is the world created by the elites and fallen angels that play out their scenarios, their world scenarios within the world to keep you under control, while they live in an excess of luxury, and lawlessness in their own little world. This is why I call it a matrix. Both live in this world I created, the Earth. Through deception, manipulation, fear and promise of great wealth and status to all who will aid them, the elites and the fallen angels have coerced the common man's world like a matrix of deception in which all inside reside under the control of lucifer's power. All but for those that managed to break free, which is only possible for those who are redeemed by My Blood and accept Me into the hearts as their Lord and Savior. It's not a computerized created digital matrix world, but a matrix of spiritual bondage. If it was an actual physical digital matrix, there would be no possibility of My children living an abundant life, a life as an overcomer if they were connected to a digital world controlled by lucifer and his fallen angels. No, Daughter, it's not a digital matrix but one made up of deception, lies, control, and lots of manipulation."

"I've shown you in the past how part of this is possible already. When someone experiences what they call deja vu, it's simply a person who has been made to re-enter into the Earth's timeline that's in the same place with only a few minutes, to a few seconds prior to the time before was already lived. The reentry into the timeline happens so quickly it's hardly noticeable, except for a slight feeling like something has changed or has already happened before. This is done when someone has a part or all of their soul's mind caged which is made possible when a human's mind goes through trauma, has real suppressed memories, bitterness, direct agreements with the enemy and such like. Remember the soul's part of the mind is the part where humans make their decision and the part where they're able to connect to Father God and to Me directly, or connect to the spirit realm. When the enemy has legal access to someone in such cases, it's through the part of their life, and the part of their mind that's related to the events that opened the door for them to enter. This is why traumatic events and such like happen a lot of times when you're a child and forgotten over time and sometimes never forgotten. It grants access into a person's life no matter what the age, to the kingdom of darkness in such areas where they can legally cage a mind or parts of a mind. These soul's mind pieces are imprisoned and held inside of the spirit wall barrier by the demons who are able to pass back and forth unhindered from the spirit realm to the physical realm. It's the demons that will place a caged mind into the timeline of the Earth and then with manipulation and deception, they can alter the reality of perception of what that person is seeing in the earth's timeline. They will oftentimes look through the eyes of the mind's pieces at what they see to catch glimpses of the past or future of the earth's timeline itself. This is also one of the ways the psychics and mediums, when operating with the spirit of divination, or the necromancers who call up and speak supposedly with the dead actually are able to get truthful events spoken during their seances and such like. It's all deception, it's all lies and it's all manipulation for the control of man's soul."

"I've spoken often to you how caged minds of people are manipulated into believing in different realities, alternate universes and past lives. When in fact they're still in the real world, on the earth, but catching glimpses of either the past or the present, even the future at times of what's already laid out in the earth's timeline. In addition, Daughter, do not forget to aid in the deception and trickery, the demons and those that astral travel, sometimes called astral projection, or spirit travel in the spirit realm such as witches, nephilim and such like, can enter the caged pieces of the mind with a demon guide like they do dreams and can influence and manipulate the events by their interferences so that what is being seen in the earth's timeline appear different to them, even though these events are really occurring. Lucifer and his kingdom are masterminds at the deception. He is the father of all lies and deception is another simply another form of lying. When you are operating in deception, you're presenting things as facts and the truth, that is not. This same technique as used with the Earth's timeline is also utilized with other deception to make someone believe they're living in alternate reality, a past life, or even a future one to come. It's all lies and deception. There are no multiverses and there are no parallel universes. There's one world, one Earth, one Spirit realm and one physical realm. One God. One Creator. One Holy Spirit and one Savior of the world which is Me, Jesus Christ. The spirit realm has a part created inside the Earth's firmament to contain the fallen angels, nephilim and such like so they would not overrun, eat and consume mankind, and could be controlled and kept from fully destroying them. Once they were cast out of My Heaven, which is in the spirit realm itself, there was nowhere for them to go, to reside except to the earth below inside the created firmament. They soon took their abode in the sky where they created themselves places to dwell, on the Earth and in the sea they also created themselves places to live with the majority of them contained behind the spirit barrier. I have shown you all this before, Daughter."

I looked at Him with love in my eyes and said, "Yes my lovely Jesus Christ, You have shown and taught me all this. I have seen the Earth's timeline and the spiritual barrier inside the barrier wall, surrounded now in ice. I understand how the enemy is operating in manipulation, deception and control, but how does it all apply to the deception that is being displayed with what many are calling glitches in the matrix? People are recording and posting pictures about seeing lines in the sky leaving it gaping open, or a person walking into a bathroom seeing their watch or a ring laying on the sink that's exactly the same as the one they're wearing? These items will have the exact same dent or scratch marks as the ones the people are wearing. What about a shape of a perfect square line evidently seen on the mountain top or a half painted area where the sky was supposed to be that now looks like a gray wall? These are the things that's being recorded and displayed making the world, even some of your children, believe they're in a digital world, an actual digital matrix like was shown in the matrix movie. I will say though, that with Holy Ghost Spirit's help, a big majority of these postings I have been able to find out were fake." My lovely Jesus Christ looked at me intently and then said, "Daughter, I will tell you, but first let Me speak with you about exactly what the AI is, since it is supposed to be the AI technology that has been used to create this fake, digital, matrix world." "Okay my Love," I replied, "I am listening." He smiled at me and then began to speak. "The AI system itself is nothing more than computers, circuits, terminals, networks that are joined and connected and such like. It alone is a piece of electronic machinery. The difference now is that it has now become inhabited or possessed by many demons like the legion. Computers calculate and compute, but do not think for themselves. The AI is not a superior intelligence newly born, but an ancient evil, the demons looking to possess anything to have a body to live in again." "I understand this," I said softly. "I know you do Daughter," my lovely Jesus Christ said as He looked at me intently, "but not all people do, including some of My children." "I've been praying for all Your true children, including myself to come to Your full truth and knowledge in all things, and to not be deceived or come into any kind of agreement with the kingdom of darkness," I replied to Him. "Yes, I know Daughter. There are others of My children who pray this too." "That's good to know," I said softly. He nodded His head in agreement then took my right hand in His, causing me to face Him more directly.

"Now Daughter, pay close attention to My every word, for I am about to give you part of the narrative of the kingdom of darkness' script, their plans for this world. You can call this, 'the fallen angels' plans,' or 'lucifer's main scheme.' Either one will do. It will be the basic highlights of the events that have occurred and what they're still planning on doing. It's time for this all to be revealed instead of just tiny bits of pieces here and there," my Lord Jesus Christ said in a voice of great seriousness. Suddenly there appeared in my hand a notebook and an ink pen, as He let go of my hand. "Write, Daughter, write, and when you wake up you will have a written copy, so you can look back on it as needed." "Thank You," I said quickly as I opened the notebook and the ink pen and prepared to take down His words. I whispered quickly to sweet Holy Ghost Spirit, "Don't let me miss one word in Jesus Christ's Name." With a small smile on His face, I heard my lovely Jesus Christ say to me, "You won't Daughter." "Oh, okay," I replied, then straightened myself up a little straighter. "I'm ready," I quickly said. My lovely Jesus Christ looked at me momentarily and then said, "Remember Daughter, this is the enemy's plans, their planned narrative, scheme and script for the world of man. It doesn't mean I shall allow all these things to occur as they have schemed and set into motion, because in holiness I judge this world and protect those who are Mine, but nonetheless this information is now to be revealed." I nodded my head that I understood. "Good," He said with another smile then began speaking as I wrote down His every word as I had been instructed to do.

"The fallen angels entered into the world of man and soon called themselves the anunakis, just one of many names they have gone by. They presented themselves as superior beings from far away, from the stars and the heavens. History accounts were changed, old ancient tablets deliberately deciphered wrong to present them as a race who came to help mankind, instead of the cruelty, the enslavement, and the received harshness from the demands to be worshiped and served that really occurred. They have left inscriptions and oral legends in histories that they, as the annunaki, the star people or one of the many other names they went by, would return again when mankind needed their help. In reality, they knew they would continue to try to reemerge into the world of man and demand to be worshiped as gods and control them. Over time they realized there would definitely be a time when they would be allowed to return by Father and Me during the end time days, if not before. After all, men's hearts are evil, and while walking the Earth as God and man, I had said I would return and times lived on the earth would be like it was during the days of Noah. They were living among men during the days of Noah before the flood came. In addition, with antichrist, the man of sin in power, they realized too they would be returning, especially since all hell will be released with death when the fourth seal in Revelation became fully opened." "What does this all mean? In their quest to conquer and destroy mankind, they knew they would have to study them, more so than what they had done by observing them while in the Garden of Eden and after they were thrown out. Their hatred for mankind is so deep, all the knowledge they thirsted for was to be able to control, manipulate, and to learn all about mankind's mental and physical makeup to be able to further cause them to fall into sin's bondage and to ensure they would not get to spend their eternity with Father God and Me. Even then, Daughter, it was all about man's soul and trying to make him fall, so he would be forever separated from the love of God and suffer with them in the Lake of Fire. They began kidnapping, abducting people so they could research and study them as their own technology advanced beneath the ground. After the flood, because of the great fear it caused them, the majority of their superior technology has been kept below ground. With the exception of the period in which Atlantis was a ruling fallen angel and nephilim city and their empire of Tartary also called Tartaria. Both times they overstepped their allowances with mankind so, I struck them down in righteous judgment giving them a holy reset of My own....heaven style."

"As they abducted more and more people to study the anatomy and mental state of mankind, rumors and stories started coming out about horrible and evil experiments being reported, occurring at the hands of evil beings without any explanation that could be found. This caused a lot of fear and was when lucifer first conceived the idea to use these kidnappings for their advantage and to start deceiving and convincing mankind that they were aliens. They were an alien race which eventually they would have rulers and others in the world declare were from outer space, with many people connecting them to the legends of the visitors from the heavens from the past, but for this plan to work, they would have to change man's understanding of how Father and I created the world, the firmament. Originally as with the anunnaki and other past legends and stories they were always declared as coming from the the stars or heavens which would be correct when you realize the firmament, its top part is called the heavens. But since that time, the heavens are now called outer space. The fallen angels began appearing in the sky like orbs of light, deliberately to be seen by mankind. Sometimes in patterns, sometimes flying erratically in the sky and sometimes as solo balls of light. All angels including the holy ones can allow themselves to be seen like orbs of light if they choose to do so. This was no new feat for the kingdom of darkness. Just further deception and manipulation of mankind who had never seen such sights before in the sky. Remember, Daughter, this was before things like project blue beam, goldeneye, the AI synchronized drone swarms, or giant projection mapping displays were ever created. This was a time when technology was not as advanced as it is now."

"I remember when I was young and my family and I were driving in a car, dad stopped the car and pointed to lights moving in the sky. They were in a pattern shaped like the front of an arrow. We watched till they flew out of sight. My mom said not to be afraid, but my dad, well that's another story," I said, as I dismissed the not so pleasant memory from my mind. "I know Daughter," my lovely Jesus Christ said, "and creating an atmosphere of fear was a big part of their plan, because the enemy works best in fear. Fear can terrorize and paralyze someone to become immobile," He said to me softly. "Yes it can, but through You, Jesus Christ we don't have a spirit of fear, but of power and of love and a sound mind." "You are right, Daughter of Mine," He said with a little smile and then continued to speak as I continued to write. "Lucifer and his kingdom had already begun devising their plans to return to the world of man and they tried several times. This can be seen in the fall of Atlantis and other such like with times as with Tartaria. So why are they trying now to make the world believe they are living inside a digital world, a matrix? Never forget Daughter, their main expertise, their main objective is one and the same and that is to destroy with deception, deception, deception. For hundreds of years, even before Antarctica was supposedly discovered, there were those in leadership positions who knew who the fallen angels were. To them they are the annunaki, the star people, the dark lords, the angels that fell, and all the other names throughout the earth's history they have presented themselves as. Their narrative will also contain the information that most of the annunaki had returned to their home planet, or continued to travel to help other worlds in distress, while some stayed here on earth undercover, living among mankind to aid, guide, and protect them. This is the cover story they will present in part when they return to the world of man with the aid of the governments and leaders of the world."

"In their staged return for the world's eyes to see, they will take credit for mankind's safety, announcing that some time during Earth's history when mankind was facing disaster, and possibly the annihilation of their species who they had been watching and observing for many years, they stepped in to help mankind once again. They became man's self-appointed guardians. With their superior technology not yet known to man, they enclosed them in a digital world, a dome for their own safety, while building up and creating the ice wall to keep them safe from the toxins and desolated areas that were now in the world. Their appearance into the world of man they will explain had to be covered up in history and was noted in man's history instead as a time of great trouble in the world containing volcano eruptions, earthquakes, mudslides and even unexplained fires and darkness. In reality what had really happened, Daughter, was lucifer and the fallen ones had re-entered man's world again calling themselves the Tartarians. Their empire was called Tartary and also Tataria by some as I stated prior. They were not hiding who they really were, as they had named their empire Tartary from the name Tartarus which refers to Hades and the abyss where they are confined at times by Heavenly judgment. Instead of them helping mankind, they were enslaving them and openly experimenting on them. The majority of their empire were filled with their own nephilim children. They had placed themselves in control of the world at this time through their offspring, placing them in continued positions of royalty such as in England, as well as even in controlling the trade through their company ownerships like the East India Company, the Dutch West India company, the Dutch East India trading company and others. Their goal and objective was to conquer, enslave and destroy mankind, while ruling them through their nephilim children, because they understood dominion over the earth and all creation was given to man, those who had the flesh of a man in their DNA."

"The destruction that had occurred that the the fallen ones' will proclaim they were protecting mankind from was in reality My holy judgment and destruction of their evil empire of Tartaria which also included their vast cities that covered many areas being destroyed by fire as hot as when I destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, with darkness, with explosions caused when their hydro thermal generators of power were commanded to be destroyed, and by using natural disasters to remove their empire from a position of power, leaving only a shell left of remnants of what it had formerly been. Even still, the rumors still go around that Tartaria was a superiorly advanced people that did only good and was removed by greedy men and bankers. All stories to cover the true nature of their black evil hearts and actions. As for the massive ice wall that now surrounds the earth that's impassible for mankind to cross unless allowed by Me, it was I who created it by Father's command, expanding it and widening it from the outer edge inward that now confined and imprisons the majority of the fallen angels, the nephilim and all their mutated experiments behind it so mankind had a chance to flourish again and survive. This was done during the time the Earth was cooled down. The world calls it the year without the sun when I formed the ice wall after the destruction of Tartaria. Most of the world who call themselves the elite of the world who partake in the worship of lucifer, of satan, know exactly who the fallen angels are. All the heads of states, elected officials in head positions of the world, and monarchies know who the annunaki really are and they all work in unity with the fallen angels. They have been given outlines they are called to follow of lucifer's main scheme, as they do their part to rule the world and keep the common man deceived and now again in bondage, spiritually and physically with their controlling lies and narratives they teach all men. The outline is adhered to as strictly as possible by the enemy and those loyal to them, That is at least until Father God and I step in, which is something they cannot stop or prevent ever," He finished saying with another slight smile on His face. I knew He was right, and He wasn't boasting, just merely stating the facts. I thought for a moment, then asked, "Antarctica used to be beautiful and fertile land. Why choose there for the fallen ones to be retrained and confined?"

He looked at me for a moment with His fiery blue eyes and then said, "These are good questions. I shall tell you. The fallen ones already had land they inhabited that was located from the watchful eyes of mankind. The distance meant very little to them because at this time they had sub-type ships that could travel below and above the water and air ship type balloons air travel. Travel was also easily done for them from place to place by such technology as their star forts, their portable portal opening devices, their mercury backed mirrors and other technology with the majority utilizing the earth's free energy like the air's natural waves used as a carrier for frequencies, tones, pitches and such like when also applied to the correct lighting. Shortly after Tartaria was destroyed, they were forced to return to their kingdom abodes of luxury they had built already at Antarctica, but no longer would they have the pleasant temperature and beautiful lands but would be confined to barriers and walls of ice for their new earthly home above the earth's soil for those restricted behind the barrier walls. Many chose to go underground and live there at this time. Still, with the majority of the dark kingdom restricted behind the ice wall, they were still some allowed to stay in the world of man. Ten percent would be the amount of all fallen angels, nephilim and demons to be allowed at this time for man's hearts are continually wicked and their thoughts evil," I heard my lovely Jesus Christ say with a hint of sadness I recognized in His voice. "I love them, I still love them, everyone," He said softly. I watched as the sadness left His eyes and He began speaking again. I began writing down His every word. "The fallen ones and high placed nephilim children were still able to run their kingdom in the world of man, but not as a vast consuming empire, but through so many still loyal to them. Through these people, they were able to give them instructions on how to proceed to maintain their iron grip where possible, but again without the former superior technology. It was a reset indeed," He said thoughtfully.

"All that Father and I do is for the better of Our children, for We love them so much. Those loyal to the fallen ones mostly stayed loyal through their demon connections and possessions and they had become addicted to power, the love of technology, and even though they were comrades with the fallen angels, they still wanted their country to be number one. So each country was still willing to do whatever it took to keep themselves in good grace with the fallen ones, their dark lords. It is the same today in the world of mankind and the world's inhabitants. Shortly after this time of holy judgment and reset, all remaining traces of Tartaria and its superior technology and advancements having ever existed as a vast empire was ordered to be erased from mankind's history. This included destroying buildings if needed, their harmonical bells, most anything that remained, but at times also included remodeling or repurposing any remaining structures and such like. It was the fallen ones that ordered the complete removal because if they couldn't have their superior technology and advancements, then the people of the world certainly wouldn't either. Not if it would help them in any way. This removal was done worldwide with the systematic removal by the cooperation of every world leader and ruler in power at that time and orders to hide anything else that might resurface if missed." He paused momentarily and I realized He was giving me a chance to get all He had just spoken written down on the paper. Once I did, I couldn't refrain from saying, "Oh wow, there's no telling what state the world would be in, if Father God and You hadn't stepped in again. When you look on the internet and research Tartaria as sweet Holy Ghost Spirit has led me to do, it's mostly good things about them, yet every time I read their name a chill would run down my spine and I knew something wasn't quite right with all the narratives I was reading about. And Lord Jesus Christ, the healing bells they called them, most don't realize when they sounded them at certain frequencies it opened up man's spirits and gave access to the enemy into their soul. There's so much hidden. I'm so glad You stepped in for Your created people because there is so much deception, that we alone could never cut through it all and see clearly on our own," I finally finished saying. "Daughter, My children never have to face these things alone. That's why if you put all your trust and faith in Me and in the Holy Spirit, there will be many traps, plans, schemes and such attacks that you never have to encounter as I move you through and around their locations and placement in your life." "I love You Jesus Christ," I said to Him quickly. "I know you do, Daughter. I love you too," He said with a brilliant smile that reached into His eyes. "Now let's continue," He said to me. I nodded my head in a yes motion and picked up the ink pen once again signifying to Him I was ready.

My lovely Jesus Christ, my Lord began speaking once again. "The orders given to lucifer's kingdom from Father and Me through Heaven's Courts could not be disobeyed. They quickly retreated to the safety of their Antarctica's abode because they are eternal beings and didn't perish when destruction's hand fell, but many of the nephilim and humans there were killed leaving many children without parents, but that's a different issue. All these happenings have been the foundational basis for lucifer and his kingdom to trap mankind, My beloved creation of people in a lie of a digital matrix made of deception, since every time they attempted to control man physically beyond their allowances that sin allows for, they have felt the hand of holy fiery justice. By relaying their commands and orders to those outside of the spiritual barrier inside the ice wall, and coordinating with those confined, the kingdom of darkness was quickly able to reestablish and continue to hold a position above mankind. In addition, their offspring in the higher positions of power and royalty were not removed and were part of the 10% nephilim chosen to remain outside of the confines of the spiritual barrier dividing wall. The enemy's stronghold and reach was still very evident on those that worshiped and were loyal to them. Most don't realize this was another heavenly reset like when Atlantis fell, and again, at the height of the fallen ones' prosperity at the expense of created men and women of the world, with the majority of their superior technology above ground, that's when judgment's hand struck them. This set them back many, many hundreds of man years in their technology and their ability to do all they had been able to do before judgment's hand struck. This was done for the safety of My children who lived among them and the future ones to come."

"A few years shortly after, when the ice wall was completely constructed, and the fallen ones were confined, Antarctica was miraculously discovered by multiple ships from different countries, even though before this time it was not a frozen wasteland as it has now become by holy judgment. The fallen ones' narrative will include that when they return as the annunaki, they will claim to have been working secretly with the leaders of the world under the guise of the Antarctica treaty to protect mankind from the destruction and poisonous waste that now resides in the outer regions behind the ice wall. The leaders and such like will also let it be known at the proper planned time that they were aware that mankind lives in a digital matrix for their own safety and survival. If allowed, they will pursue this area of false claims to try to draw more into antichrist's collective hive when the time comes to accept his mark. Afterall, they will suggest, if your world is already a digital one constructed for your safety that you cannot physically leave, then what's the harm in taking a mark that will unite everyone together in their minds too. The fallen ones will also speak lies about how they had to return because their self generating created power supply has begun to diminish and fail. This is evident by the glitches and abnormalities being seen and reported inside the matrix. But really Daughter of Mine, it's the use of technology like project blue beam, GoldenEye and the AI assisting with mapping displays and such like creating these effects like missing pieces of the sky or walls. It's deception upon deception. They will also claim they had to work secretly with the leaders of the world so mankind could progress and evolve on their own, with them only supplying technology when it became absolutely necessary. Like the technology found at the CERN center when the matrix started glitching so they could open more portals and start contacting their people to be brought through to help until their ships could arrive. You know Daughter, in reality they are pulling demons and the fallen angels through these portal openings and not some supposed friendly alien civilization. Yet many people want so desperately for there to be aliens from outer space they will openly embrace the fallen ones' deception, as many do already, because for many years they have laid the foundational work for their deception's lie and narratives through movies, books, government agencies, the study of Babylonian astrology and such like."

I looked at Him and then said, "Jesus Christ my Love, You've told others and me that the fallen angels and their kingdom will return to the physical realm, those allowed after the 3 days of darkness had transpired. In addition, according to Revelation 6:12 there's still a great earthquake that's going to occur causing much devastation and splitting of land formations, after at least one nuclear device has detonated in Manhattan and You will have returned for Your bride. This is after the two realms, the physical and spiritual have merged together into one when the fallen angels declare themselves as the anunnaki who have returned to save us. They will unite and stand with macron the antichrist. Am I understanding this correctly?" I asked Him. "Yes, Daughter you are," He replied. "WOW," was all I could think to say at the moment. After we sat silent for a few moments, I finally managed to speak out loud some of the many thoughts running wildly through my mind. "Jesus Christ, it's only after CERN and other locations began opening portals and using the portal particle accelerator type technology in smashing particles did the polar ice caps and ice of the world begin showing they were melting significantly faster than before. Are the fallen ones trying to melt the ice wall? Is this what they're blaming on global warming?" "Yes, Daughter it is." Surprise filled my face until I finally spat out, "Surely ole lu lu...lucifer and his kingdom have thought up some grand, terrific lie and deception to hide their attempts at trying to melt the ice wall and polar caps? I mean after all, look at all they devised and planned with centuries of time on their hands for us already." My lovely Jesus Christ gave me a huge smile then finally said, "You're learning well the ways of the enemy Daughter of Mine. Yes, they will include with their narrative to the world that when men begin abusing the world's natural resources, it began to cause the ice of the world to melt. Again this would be another reason for the fallen ones as the annunaki to send out calls for their other ships to return, because if the ice wall fully melted, which is what they were really trying to do, then mankind would no longer be fully protected. Plus with all the activity of the Earth itself, the digital matrix system they're created for mankind to live in, as I said prior, they would claim its power supply had begun failing, allowing it to start showing glitches. One other thing in their narrative they will let it be known that when they created the matrix for mankind, they will suggest to the world that they had to remove all traces of those who had instigated the destruction that came upon the world. They will be inadvertently referring to those missing who are My children, My bride I have taken to be with Me in Heaven. Judgment has been passed on this issue and they are greatly restricted on what wording they can use concerning My return and the removal of My beloved bride. This all goes together Daughter. It's all one beautiful story, only it's all made up of deception and lies. The enemy comes to kill, to steal and to destroy and that's it," my lovely Jesus Christ said passionately.

"I know what you're saying is true," I told Him, "because You can't lie. I thank You for all that You've shared with me, but if You could please share with me a little more on how they do what looks like the glitches, I would appreciate it my Love, but only if it be Your will." "It is My will Daughter," He said as He began speaking once again. "When you realize to the enemy, the world is a stage and they have all of man's technology above and what they have below to make what looks impossible, really quite possible and easily done. For example, Daughter, they will at times, deliberately shoot their wave devices, frequencies, technology and weapons at different animals to cause them to react irrational. Depending on the type of animal, beast or flying fowl, the birds when used upon them, it can cause them to become disoriented. If it's birds, they might migrate in the wrong time of year, or in large numbers fly around buildings or objects that's not normal for their flight pattern. Some have even been noted as seen flying upside down. Their glitches and strange anomalies are mostly deliberately done and staged so that someone somewhere will capture it by camera. You live in a technological, electronic device-driven world where many are addicted to them and cannot leave home without an electronic device in their possession. The enemy knows this and can almost guarantee that someone will have a camera available even if it's through their cell phones. If not through the portable devices, then through the many satellites and cameras on every street corner, every available place throughout the world. Everything is pre-planned and pre-staged for the common man to believe they live inside a digital matrix instead of the real world that I created for them. Daughter, think about it. With the technology now in the kingdom of darkness' hand below ground, with much of it making its way above ground, what they can't do with technology, they still do with demons and nephilim. Let Me give you a different type of example of what I mean. Someone snaps a picture of trees blowing in the wind. There's nothing unusual about that. But upon closer observation, if not noticed at the time of taking the picture, the person notices the wind blowing the branches and leaves of the trees all in one direction as they are supposed to do. All that is, except for one lone tree whose branches and leaves are blowing in the opposite directions of all the other same types of trees. Normally in everyday life this is impossible, so it's automatically assumed it is a glitch in the matrix. Thereby proving to that person they must live in a digital world, a matrix after all.

When in reality it's the kingdom of darkness being deceptive again. Here's how. What the natural eye cannot see because it's spiritual and invisible to them is that the lone tree was being shielded and protected from the wind's force by a demon or demons blocking it from hitting the tree. There will be another demon or demons that will be blowing on the lone tree in the opposite direction of the others causing the tree limbs and leaves to point in the opposite direction of all the other trees. It's not a glitch, Daughter, it's simply trickery and deception by the demons and fallen ones that do these kinds of things every single day to every person and inhabitant on the earth they can because they love to do it so much and it almost always guarantees they will get some type of hidden agreement out of the people who fall for their lies and deception's tricks."

Another example of trickery Daughter which people have said occurred in the déjà vu type moments which needs to be mentioned to clarify these things for your understanding. This one is very common and most people cannot explain it, so it's accepted almost every time as a glitch in the so-called digital matrix. A person might tell their son in casual conversation they need to set their alarm for 8:00 AM, because they have an appointment to keep in the morning. The next time that person's soul's mind get reinserted into the Earth's timeline and they begin reliving that moment in time, they might only say to their son the second time, 'I need to set my alarm for 8:00 AM,' and not mention anything about it's because they have an appointment to keep, yet their son does. He mentions it. The first person says only, 'I need to set my alarm for 8:00 AM in the morning,' and the son replies before the other person could say it himself, 'because you have an appointment to keep.' It appears like he has read that other person's mind or that the matrix has glitched. When in reality, it's because the original person has been reinserted into the Earth's timeline, and both the person's son and they relived the same moment. He was there for the first time too. This is how the son already knew what to say. He had already heard this information the first time it was spoken and it was prior knowledge to him. From when both people involved relived that moment. Remember also Daughter to never forget, you have those inside the dark kingdom like the warlocks, witches and nephilim who are posting for lucifer's kingdom with posts about having glitches in the matrix and whatever else they are ordered to post to support whatever current or past narrative that's been launched in your world to believe. This is where so much deception comes in and they are located in every walk and position in man's world."

"Oh wow, that's really sneaky and underhanded," I said in surprise. He turned and looked at me intently and then asked, "Why does this surprise you so much Daughter? When you know the enemy will do anything they can to get My children embroiled in their plans and cause them to fail. Just to gain an agreement out of My created people. If they are able to do so, then they can legally have continued strongholds built and attack their lives with this granted, legal access. Please understand Daughter, if you agree that the world you're living in is a digital simulation, a digital matrix created by lucifer, when in reality it's a real world you can touch and feel that's been created by Father God's command, then you're granting them legal access into your life. It is clearly written in the Scripture of Truth, My Holy Word, how this world was created and how it is established forever. This world belongs to Father God and Me. When the darkness comes and the grids go down, then all will know that I am God, and I am the one in control, not lucifer and his kingdom. Although this is the fallen ones' well laid out plans and narratives, it doesn't mean these things will come to pass as they suppose. This is not a digital matrix and all the world will know this because when all power sources are cut off to your whole world, during the 3 days of darkness, with only My own having light through Me, for I am light, while all others do not, then the world will see, know and realize they're living in the same real world that I created for man by Father's command, without any source of power available to sustain their matrix grid lie. You'll know then without doubt, this is not a glitching, fake digital, matrix world that lucifer created for My people to live in. A created, digital matrix world where mankind lives their lives through deception is contrary to how I speak of creation. Was man not instructed in My Holy Word to work the ground for food, to not be slothful and to be fruitful and multiply? This is wrong and is a deceptive erroneous lie full of trickery and manipulation. It's all deception. I say again, this would make lucifer and his technology the creator of the world of man. That's not how it is. No, Daughter, no, it's not a digital matrix."

My people take these things too casually and do not seek Me fully for My truth in all things as they are instructed to do. This is for the good of their own sake and safety and those they love. It's not a game to the kingdom of darkness, and although it sounds outlandish at times to so many of Mine and others in all that they are willing to do, what they have done in the past, and how far they are willing to go to deceive only one or many, they are forgetting it a race for that person's soul. It only takes an agreement, one agreement for the enemy to be granted access to any person's life. The only way they can kill, steal and destroy you, is if you let them in, and you do this when you let them have access to your life by an agreement of some type. This is different from a type of agreement that Father might make to allow one of Our children to be tested and purged. This is access you grant to the kingdom of darkness yourself and it's legal and binding in the Courts of Heaven because you made it knowingly or unknowingly before Father God in Heaven who sees all, hears all and knows all things, like I do. Still there is grace and mercy available for those who are Mine. Daughter, My children need to come out from the world and separate themselves from all such deception." "I'm sorry my love, I didn't think of it like that." "I know Daughter, " He said quickly, "and that is the same thinking that the majority of My own body has." I dropped my head and whispered, "Jesus Christ, forgive us."

He lifted my face up by the chin and said sternly but with love, "I do Daughter, I will always forgive a true heart that repents, but what I am trying to do is wake My body up to see the dangerous tactics of the enemy that so many casually dismiss or laugh away because of how preposterous lucifer's attacks and means appear and sound to them. Which was exactly what he was counting on My children to do with them falling for his ruse, and they have. I'm bringing this darkness for 3 days, suddenly. Daughter, these things need to be broken and taken care of before you enter it. I will be with My children, yes indeed, but how much trying and testing, how much purging and trials you're going to need to shine as spotless white determines how clean My children are before Me in holiness as they enter into the darkness. Daughter, you know the time. In half a moment of a second, it descends in My time. It's right on course with no further delays. This Daughter is why I have spent so much time in revealing to you that there isn't a digital matrix My children live inside of or for the rest of the world. Children of Mine, break all agreements and ties with the kingdom of darkness. Let go of the world and never look back because I'm coming and I won't settle for anything less than pure and holy for My bride. And you Daughter, you cannot have any connections or ties of any type when the darkness lifts with lucifer's kingdom, because that will make you spiritually traceable. They will hunt for you, trying to stop you before you step fully out as My end time witness, the first of two who accepted the call before the other. The plans to do this have already been made and set into motion. Don't worry Daughter, beloved of Mine, I've got you and I will never let go of you or any of My children who really love Me." With these words I awoke from this dream.
