

Many Graves Vision 2-27-26@4:14 AM

I was awakened abruptly out of my sleep. I heard the noise of the holy angels in the spirit realm, very loudly in the physical realm. "Jesus Christ," I began to pray and ask, "what's happening? What's going on for them to be in such an uproar?" You didn't answer immediately, so I continued to pray as I came into the kitchen and fed the cats this morning.

Sitting here at the kitchen table, I just had a vision. I saw an apparition in the night sky that looked like how we described the Grim Reaper. He's also called the Angel of Death or the Destroyer. He was suspended in the sky, dressed in solid black like a robe. The bottom of it had a torn look that was shredded and moved as if there was a breeze, a slight breeze blowing beneath his feet. It almost seemed somehow he had arrived on the wind. He was holding with both hands in front of him a large scythe, or sickle, some call them. His face was shrouded by an oversized hood on the robe.

Then I saw land beneath him. My gaze, my sight, had expanded outward, and I saw freshly dug graves that looked like mounds of dirt. I knew they were indeed graves, because when I was questioning You, my lovely Jesus Christ, what these mounds of dirt were while still seeing the vision, suddenly each mound had a gravestone, a grey marble, rounded stone rise up and appear at the top of each mound, each grave. They were all the same in their color and shape without any writing on the stones. Then my view expanded further and there were rows upon rows of these fresh graves in every direction and as far as my eyes could see. I know it represents deaths that are about to happen where a great number of people are going to die.

Jesus Christ, You told me the graves are all at the same time because these are those that would die at the same time by a great event. I am seeking You further in prayer for more clarity and information. I ask that You speak to me more about this if it be Your will, Jesus Christ.

The Destroyer Comes to Take Life 2-27-26 @ 2:23 PM

Jesus Christ, you hear our singing, not how it sounds to the ears, but how it comes out of the heart. Yes, daughter, I do. I love you and I praise you, God. Lord the vision I had this morning others have discerned it was from You and was true also. I was thinking...it was one death angel...one grim reaper...one destroyer...only one holy angel. One angel can destroy 185,000 in one night. How many angels were there that I saw because there were rows and rows. The fresh graves was letting me know it was death."

"That which was spoken, that which was given, that which was shown has come, Daughter. The destroyer arrives on the moon, the light of the full moon. Like I showed you in dream upon dream upon dream...the destroyer comes to take life! Daughter the destroyer comes...to take life. His time has come, the destroyer of one. The destroyer of one, then the destroyer of 4."

"You have seen in advance these things play out. I have given you dreams and visions, even while awake of these things as they transpire. Now the time for their fulfillment in your world, in your timeline, in your earth has come."

“It has come, Daughter. This is the urgent call and the pull that you feel to reach and to pray for the lost. While so many are still concerned about getting their children into this school, attending this game, getting the next promotion, what to wear for the church service, what to wear for going and feeding the poor. Daughter, it's reaching the lost and then when someone accepts Me into their heart, help them, further them along. Don't cast them aside and abandon them to try to swim in this world alone.”

“Those who are truly Mine are those that will take root. Hear Me daughter, hear Me, those that My Father give Me, none can take from Me, and none will be lost except Judas... Judas Iscariot. He was given to Me by My Father because one had to betray Me, so all could come to pass. So salvation could be given to this lost and dying world. So I could be nailed to that cross and as My Blood was shed and as I gave My life and as I cried, “It is finished,” your sins could be washed away and nailed to this cross. Daughter, My Blood is the only one that can wash away sins, justify and redeem. This is the price I paid for mankind. This is the price I paid for you.”

“As these things come, as they approach, daughter, as you have seen for yourself, these things line up with My Crucifixion. The same yet different because it's not just Jerusalem, not just Israel, but the whole world that shall be affected.”

“Spring is upon you daughter. Spring is upon you, the birthing of a new year. What will this world find? Trouble and anguish, tribulation, the man of sin, those left behind. I have spoken, I have declared all that My Father has given Me. I am the Righteous Judge and My Father and I are One.

We are the same yet different. Tell them daughter, tell them, tell them the destroyer has arrived.”
“I will Lord.”
