

Proof of Putin's Evil Coalition Forming 10-2-20@3:43AM Journal Entry

“It is time for all these pronounced occurrences to now take place for your world has been judged for their many, many unrepented sins and found guilty as a whole people. As a whole people you shall all endure the called forth judgment which is this war of nations. Do you not remember last night Child, when I led you to look briefly throughout your news headlines, how that Persia, being the country of Iran, have publicly made the open statement that they would aid and support any country who fights against My blessed nation of Israel and your country of the United States of America? Is this not just one of many pieces of truth that I have brought to your eye's view of the solidifying of the evil Putin's unholy and ungodly coalition? Yes, Child, yes it is. Yesterday I also led you to the proof that the people of the south...of Mexico are already enduring the beginnings of this famine of great dearth which is one of the key factors which will cause them as a country to reach out to the evil Putin. This plus their surmounting hatred for your people and its president will join at a latter time, after this war of nations begins, this unholy and evil coalition in this war of nations against your once great nation. She, who has proven as a whole people, a whole country as disloyal and unfaithful.” “I realize that You are a God of great love, compassion, and much mercy and that things like dates and occurrences can change.”

“You are correct, Child, when you say that I am a God of great love, mercy, and even compassion. Remember Child, regardless of all that occurs upon your world, it is still I who is in complete control. Me, Jehovah God, your Creator, and I have revealed to you and told you often Child, that your president Trump is necessary for the progression of this war of nations. He has been raised up into his position of leadership for such a time as this, for I set up rulers and leaders and within a moment's notice I can cast them down also!” “I'm tired Jesus and weary in mind and body and it's not that I desire to be in war and endure all these foretold horrors, but I find myself praying for this war of nations to start. Not from any ill intent of heart, for You see inside my heart, and know the truth of what I speak. It comes from a deep, deep longing to be in Your holy presence God. Because You have told us this war would not be stopped...to not even pray for it to be stopped. Forgive me Father God, but my heart belongs to You, to You and Jesus, and even though I am 'occupying,' trying to reach all the lost I can and share this blessed gift of Salvation to all I see or talk with, the truth is I don't want to be here. I want to be with You in Your holy presence. I am taking joy in the moments of each day while here on earth, but I know it pales and pales greatly to the joy, the peace, and the beauty of Your pure love that I, that we, Your children shall experience once we finally get to Heaven. So with this said, I am praying for these things to begin so that I can behold Your face Father God, and the face of My beloved Jesu Christs. So Lord, what does this mean God? What does it truly mean?”

“War is right on schedule, Child. Right on schedule and so is your sign. It's done Child. All the final preparations are done. Completed. I have promised you would not have to wait any longer, but remember Child, even still all things are done in My timing which is always found to be perfect above all else. You are somewhat distracted this morning Little One.” “Forgive me Father God, but I am and I do not mean to be unkind or disrespectful to You in any way, but I am fighting and resisting in Your Son's Name an overwhelming amount of doubt this morning. Not in You, for I know that You are my God...the One, true and living God Jehovah, but I'm having great difficulty in seeing that all my efforts have not been done in vain. Even though I have done all that You and Your Holy Spirit have led of me to do, but Lord, You said we are known by our fruit. Am I producing any kind of good fruit? Are these warnings reaching anyone and with the continual delaying of such things, those few who had started preparing, I sense are becoming lax in their efforts. I don't profess to be anything but Your Child, God, who loves You with all my heart, and who, being, that I am trying to walk in humble obedience before You. I keep reminding myself of Jeremiah the prophet in Your Holy Word, our Holy Bible, who preached and preached, and prophesied until he saw all these things come to pass. I have only been giving the actual warning of war coming to America and to our world, for a little over a year, and yet, I am feeling somewhat dismayed and discouraged."

"I keep rebuking these thoughts and things from my mind in Your Son Jesus' Name as You have instructed me to, but I don't know Jesus. I don't know God how much longer I can keep going. Please forgive me, for I keep quoting Philippians 4:13 I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me, and I know it's through You that I am able to somehow pick up once again and press on. Depressed...no, no I'm not Jesus, and in Your Name never again. Discouraged... somewhat, and with each day of the delay of this sign, I seem to slip a little further into this discouragement that's trying to grab hold of me and draw me away from this call. This call to warn and reach the lost. So here We are, Lord. Me somewhat discouraged, yet, still determined to do all that You have called me to do, and You, Father God now sitting upon the Throne of Judgment while mankind for the most part, sits blissfully unaware of the fury of Your anger for their continual refusal as a whole people, a whole world to repent of their many sins. I can't say I blame You God. Because what I have been seeing just in the news headlines of the evilness and wickedness of men and women of our world, our nation and even those who professed to be the great men and women of You, God, our supposedly holy and righteous examples of how we are supposed to live before You and others...well, it just disgusts and sickens me. Even making me violently ill to my stomach. You, God, for many years have led me to not watch the news, but only bits and pieces here and there throughout the years. When I asked You just how wicked our world had become, You let me see, and I am amazed, truly God, that judgment had not come down out of Heaven sooner?"

"I am longsuffering Child, long suffering with a deep and unending love for mankind and it has taken Me many, many, many of your earthly years for Me, Your holy God, to reach My 'Done!' My point of it all being too much. Warning after warning I sent down to man out of love. Even while still knowing, he, as a whole people would not repent and this promised, foretold, judgment would have to be brought forth. But at what cost to man, for when he chose the pleasures of sinning over the love of Me, their God, then there was nothing left to do but bring forth and call into existence this war of nations, and all its bringing, and has brought already upon your world. But Child, but, I am still a good God, for even though yes, mankind will enter full force, headlong into this promised war of nations, these famines, these pestilences, known and unknown diseases, and the untold other horrors yet to come forth, I have still promised to be with you, those who truly love Me, and those still yet, to come to Me and serve me. I will not abandon you. So, Child, when I tell you your sign is here, then it's here. When I tell you that war is about to manifest in its physical form of these weapons of the nuclei falling across and upon your once great nation, then yes, Child, this is exactly what is happening. For yes, Child, the procession of all these foretold events have already started upon your world and nation. Do not get too weary Little One, for if you lose hope, then you have let go of Me. For I am your hope Child, your only hope, for your world can offer nothing to you but false hope and false sense of security.”

“War is here! It’s here. All is done. All is. completed, and all is finished, for I leave no loose ends untied or loop holes one can slip through. It’s done Child. It’s done, and as your president sits in his confined quarantine, he shall brood and stew on this land of China, for he holds the belief in his heart that if they had not allowed this Coronavirus, this Covid-19 from being released upon your world and your once great nation, then he would not be facing so great an opposition in trying to get reelected. He will give this speech Child. He will give it, for I have ordained it. I have called it forth and birthed it into actual existence. Not a partial birth, but a complete birthing, signaling the start of all these things to come.” “How long Jesus, how long?” “I’ve got you Little One. I’ve got you and as long as you will let Me. I shall keep you close to My heart where you can hear the steady beating of My heart and you shall always know that I am ever present, never leaving. You are not alone Child, no, never alone.” “I am praying, Jesus. Running continuously to Your loving arms. I am reading, reading Your Holy Scripture and I am preparing my heart first and foremost. Then my physical preparations as well. I am working hard, but in Your strength Jesus. Not because I am trying to work my way into Heaven, for our righteousness is as filthy rags and it’s not by works, but by the grace we receive when we obtain and accept Your blessed gift of Salvation. But I choose Jesus, I choose to love You, to serve You with my life, and to walk humbly before You in obedience with Your help. So help me Jesus. Help me lest I fall and fall hard.”

“I’ve got you Child, for dear Little One. I have never, ever fully let go of you even during the brief moment in time when you chose, not I, but you chose to walk into the world and away from Our great love. But Child, I knew you would return, for you are My fair one. My beloved. The rarest of jewels that man has to offer. You are Mine, and I shall never let go of your hand again.” “I love You Jesus Christ.” “I know Little One, for I see the pureness of your heart before Me. It’s going to be okay Child. I have not failed you, for I am incapable of failure of any kind. Any kind at all. Your sign will come forth into manifestation, this I promise Little One. This I promise to you. I promise Little One. Hold on dear Little One, for I am sending you spiritual reinforcements. Expect always the unexpected things, Child, the unexpected things, for I exist in the spiritual realm, but choose at times to operate in that of your physical, natural realm on behalf of My beloved little ones.”
