

I Have Come to Judge the World 9-7-26@4:43 PM Shared 9-8-26

"Lord Jesus Christ, my love, I'm here. Thank You for helping me today." "You're welcome Daughter, beloved of Mine."

Daughter, many wonder how if I am a God of love, then how can I administer this holy justice and judgment? I am a God of love and it's My love for every innocent baby who was forcibly ripped apart and ripped out of the protective safety of the mother's womb and murdered, who cry out for vengeance, is how and why I do these things.

It's for every young child abused, beaten, and tortured, and used as a prostitute that My wrath rages. It's for every innocent person murdered, those abused, those wrongfully imprisoned. My wrath burns at the horrible things done to mankind to their minds, to their bodies without their consent or knowledge. When all has been weighed in the balances, the blood spilt, the sins, and iniquities tilt the balance to guilty.

When men try to avenge someone, they allow their fleshly emotions of their hearts to dictate their actions which leaves them open and vulnerable to attacks from the dark kingdom. My wrath was never meant for My children to bear. It is reserved for the wicked, the rebellious, the ungodly, the unrepented sinner, and unrepented backslider who once knew My ways and My Father and Me, that has chosen to live in sin and refuse to repent for all the evilness they are doing.

I hear the cry of many, as the atrocities once hidden of what the fallen ones and those of their kingdom do, come to the light. Many have cried out to Me, "Why don't You do something?" I am! My timing is perfect!

Daughter, I am My Father's Right Arm, His Right Hand. My attacks are deadly, My aim is true. My sword shall drip with the blood of the wicked and when I shoot a bow, it shall always hit its mark perfectly. This I do by My Father's command.

To avenge with justice and purity is only possible through a holy God to be given, for Father and I cannot be manipulated by lucifer or any of his whole kingdom.

None can stop Me!

None can contend with Me!

None can block My path!

And none can withstand the Holiness and Righteousness that I am.

I have come to judge the world, because no man or woman on the earth is capable of knowing everything to be able to do this fairly. Nor could their minds fully comprehend the depths of the evil the kingdom of darkness is capable of. I perceive the intent of each heart and no deception can get past Me because I am truth, pure truth with no variances found.

I am the only one capable of judging this world righteously, since Father has placed all things, all things into My well capable hands.

Daughter of Mine...and now that's what I'm doing. I'm judging the world and its inhabitants. The purging My children are receiving as judgments fall across your world is necessary to keep those of Mine ready for My return, ready, and those not ready to have a chance to do so.

So now you know Daughter, what fuels Our wrath the most. The defiling and murdering of the innocent, in addition to idol worship and sexual immorality and impurities.

Now Daughter, beloved of My Father and Me, I bring more judgment, swift and sure from the Courts of Heaven and My Father's throne.

I send swiftness of winds like that of speeding chariots and horses with destructive forces that shall surprise many as the waters keep churning storms upon storms, but it's also upon the land they come. Destructive winds of many kinds but not just to America-Babylon, but to Alberta, Canada. To Green Bay, Wisconsin, the same yet different in Babylon-America.

I send destructive, gale-force type winds to Albuquerque, to Long Island, New York. I send a besiegement of waves and water flooding to the east coast of evil Babylon-America. I send a shaking to Peru and to Pueblo, Colorado.

I strike into the heart of Asia and send forth a shaking, a quaking, a flooding of different sorts to this land that persecutes My own and women.

I send forth a bombardment of hail, large and small to Calgary. Your evil wicked doings have not gone unnoticed.

I send fire, I burn the hills, the mountains, the plains of Dublin, Ireland.

The Rosetta Stone is about to get a new resting place Daughter, wait and see!

Hear the sound of My voice thunder. It's within the sound of My thunder that the Earth shall shake and quake as I prepare for the dividing of America-Babylon through the fault near the Mississippi River divide.

Shaking, quaking, tumbling, draining, follow the pattern for these things are meant to be as commanded by Me.

Vancouver, Washington, My eyes have beheld your secret doings and evil gatherings. Feel the weight of My anger fall upon you as I send forth by judgment destruction to your door of another sort.

Kent, Washington, behold, the hour comes for you to feel the anger of your holy God and Creator. You have been a deciding factor in deception's playbook for a good majority of the world's population of today. I call forth now that what you have tried to keep hidden and buried and reveal it to the world for them to witness your shame and disgrace. Your bold defiance against the world's holy Creator, against Me, Jesus Christ, God's Son that has caused many to fall into a path of rejection and deception will not go unpunished. You have failed to repent. Repent now or after your shame and evil doings are revealed, I shall crush you beneath My feet to where lucifer will no longer be able to profit from your existence in the world of man.

I give this warning to the South of the Riviera, batten down the hatches, holy judgment I send against you this day.

Cancun, Cancun is about to meet Ed, Edouard.(Ed-Ward)

Hungary, your loyalties lie with Russia and Putin. Now he seeks to strengthen the ties between your nations because he can now see the time is come when he shall finally be able to shoot down and clip the eagle's wings of Babylon-America. Watch and see Daughter if news does not come forth subtly and not as a headline breaking news event for your evil world. Although they will try, the news I command will not be buried. For it is a sign for other nations for their own preparations to come.

The Ravine the Ravine is about to see destruction and calamity comes its way as lightning strikes, thunder rolls, fire burns to a blaze as righteousness begins cleansing the filth and demonic activities that's occurring in New York's Central Park.

I shake this world Daughter, I shake it hard, fast, and furious.

Bosnia is about to get a surprise wake up call that those once thought loyal and trusted prove to be working against and not for them.

I rule the world of man. I control the nations and kingdoms of this world and in the end all I do shall be for the bettering of this world and for My beautiful children I love so much.

The birthplace of Mary Poppins is about to receive a shuttering and a shaking. Although Mary Poppins is fictional, her creator is not. I send a shuddering, a shuddering through this land with gale-type winds of raging weather. Now Daughter, now and I've only just begun releasing My righteous anger. My wrath has yet to fall.

Now, now I turn My attention and focus back upon your evil, wicked nation of America Babylon. I am a God, the Lord of war who knows how to fight in honesty and truth, and holy vengeance and retribution for the innocent both dead and alive and for those who are Mine.

This.....this Daughter, I do now. Not tomorrow, not another day, but now!
