

Wake Up Fire Mountains, CERN & Gross Darkness Comes 10-2-26@9:59 AM Shared 10 3-26

I'm brandishing My sword Daughter. No longer is it just drawn, but now the time has come that I step forth and wield it. I have warned; My watchmen and women have warned; now the time has come. Now when I strike, the destroyer strikes. As I warned through you, beloved Daughter, and other of My children. When I strike, the destroyer strikes. When I move, he moves.

Just like in the days of King David who numbered the people. The destroyer was sent, and many were struck down in righteous, holy judgment. I'm brandishing My sword. Already it has been unsheathed, now the swinging begins. My aim is true; My strike is deadly. Sin is the cause Daughter, unrepented sins in the hearts of the wicked.

As holy Judge and Deliverer, Savior of this world, I do all that is fair, right, and just. All who will come, all who are being drawn to me, I say come! Why should you die in your sins when I had given My life and shed My blood so you could be redeemed and freed? I wish that none would die, but the choice is yours. The line has been drawn. Time for repentance was granted. Few have repented even though Judgment's hand has fallen everywhere across your world.

Did I not say there would be water, water, water everywhere? Was not I addressing evil wicked Babylon, but other places as well? Yes, yes I did and yes I was.

Now hear what I speak; hear what I say. I am not slack or slothful in fulfilling all I have spoken. Man does not understand My ways, nor does he understand truly what grace and mercy are. Or he would be preparing his soul for his eternity instead of indulging in every fleshly desire or want he has.

The time of abundance is over. Hear Me, O' wicked world; the time of plenty I now remove from your world, but for a few that find themselves embracing the man of sin as confident, friend, and loyalist.

Now, O' world, hear Me, and hear Me well; My sword strikes into the depths of the Earth. From out of My blow shall come justice and holy judgment. I send forth fire, erupting, flowing, liquid fire. I stir the mountains of fire not only inside the ring of fire but outside of it. Erupt, I say, come forth! Spew forth! Cover, burn, spew dust, ash, smoke, cover and burn, I declare to those tall standing mountains of fire.

Can You hear the rumble in the Earth's inwards where My sword has reached? That which is still dormant and not fully awake inside the depths of the Earth, hear the voice of your Creator. Wake up! Rise from your sleep and slumber no more.

I send a shaking, many shakings across the world, in the lands, and in the waters. Wake up, I say, wake up and spew forth your liquid fire, your lava, and begin cleansing and purging this evil, wicked world! Daughter, the time of the Judgment sent forth against the stones has arrived. The time of holy judgment sent against the stones has arrived inside your Earth's timeline and in the world of man. The time of stones to be destroyed. The time for the Red stone judgment and the Yellowstone.

I dispatch My angels now to do My bidding, My holy commands.

I call forth the destroyer of four. I strike, he, they strike. Run My children, run and hide yourselves in Me, for I'm passing over in a mighty way My brandished Sword of Righteousness.

I send now to the Ethiopian country thundering waves of torrential rain, for inside her borders are the children, a hideaway for the Nephilim to grow, though impoverished to keep them out of view from those suspecting eyes. Not all are of the Nephilim birth, but judgment rains on the just and the unjust.

I send to Scandinavia and an outpouring of an outburst of controversial judgments that cannot be appealed. Herein shall the courts be weaponized against its people who are wicked and loved the lusts of the flesh and hold no shame for that which should not be openly seen but kept private.

To the Baja, as you will like to call it, I send mass destruction of another kind. I send more winds, churning destructive winds, gale force winds, not once, not at the same time. Watch for it; surely, they come accompanied by water, water, flooding everywhere. Landslides, mud that covers, and hearts that will still refuse to repent.

The destroyer of four is preparing his sword, their swords, for their time of unleashing inside the 3 days of darkness. Tell Me, world, can you not feel it's impending approach? It comes; the darkness comes for 3 days. Gross darkness, thick darkness. Darkness that's alive, darkness, the outer darkness of the deepest recesses of the abyss that's also the dark matter inside it. It comes, it comes. I send it on its final journey on its last stretch to your world, now inhabitants of the world.

Many have warned, many who are Mine. Many, the majority of them have not been Mine who have sounded the alarm after having encounters with the spirit of divination who portrayed themselves as the Holy Spirit or as Myself Jesus Christ. These are false spirits who through prior abilities caught glimpses of the future time that it would be sent upon mankind again. This Daughter is why there is so much confusion and conflict in the instructions for My people, when Father and I are not the authors of any type of confusion.

Just like My Gospel of Salvation is simple, so are My instructions. Stay inside, lock the windows and doors, and cover them. Do not let anything in. If you have candlelight, you have been found, the spiritual head of the household, with sin in your life. Repent. But the focus point of all should always be I am the One protecting them. My power, My Blood, My Name, My seal of redemption shall protect those who are Mine who stay inside and follow the example I have given in My Word of the Israelites in Pharaoh's Day.

Those who are aware of the marine kingdom's involvement in the perfumes and scented candles should know if this is what they have, then the power found in My Name is enough to break any curse or ill spoken attack allowing them to use without harm what they have. This is My ever extended grace to My children. I have warned of the necessity to cover the windows and doors because mankind will be heavily tempted at times to look outside or to let a demon or other evil one inside who's mimicking the voice of someone you know or love.

In the end, your main focus should be on your relationship between you and Me, and in doing so, My Holy Spirit shall be able to instruct you when the time comes, My children, how you should continue.

I say now, it's not as most suppose, for even though I'm sending it now, it shall not descend when the kingdom of darkness expects it will. For I have blinded their understanding, so they will be ill-prepared for the sake of My children and those who are still here to enter the tribulation and Great Day of the Lord.

Daughter, what is occurring at the CERN's foundation's location is a ploy. What they're doing is not what is being shared to the public.

In addition, preparations have been made and have been started for a newer location to house the CERN type capabilities in other machines hidden from the public's eye, but above ground and not below, inside the Great Pyrenees mountains in hopes that the kingdom of darkness can keep this portal particle accelerator and all such like connected knowledge and technology since it will be done above ground and not below as I reclaim the under levels of all the earth and seas, the waters of the deep. They shall not be allowed to keep it. I send Destruction's hand that way now.

Did you really think lucifer that I would allow you to circumvent My holy decrees and commands? I warn you again: you shall have only 10 medium sized data centers as well. Why am I repeating this warning?

So, when your house of cards of made-up data centers collapses around your wicked kingdom, many shall remember My words of truth, and some of these shall come running to Me and accept Me into their hearts as their Lord. I shall show Myself strong on their behalf but also for My current children now.

I am now brandishing My sword, yielding it in the expert authority of My Father.

Awake, O' come awake sleeping mountains of fire and those buried deep. Your time has come to sleep no more. Awake, I say awake! Hear the command of your Creator. I send this command forth. Not a gentle waking as I sent before, but in a Brut waking out of their sleeping status I now command.

Daughter, there's more of these tall and sunken burning mountains than just the Ring of fire. Watch, wait, and see. For My children I say, can you hear the wedding music that's beginning to play in Heaven? Yes, yes, it is that time.

The spirit of divination is a type of familiar spirit mentioned in this word.

House of Cards figurative meaning: Something with a weak foundation: It refers to any abstract concept—like a business, a legal argument, a political system, or a relationship—that looks impressive or secure on the outside, but is really fragile and ready for imminent collapse: In reality, it is held together by shaky, unreliable factors. If a single key component fails or pressure is applied, the whole situation will fail dramatically (often expressed as collapsing "like a house of cards").
