FOR THE GLORY OF FATHER GOD & JESUS CHRIST.

IT'S ALL JESUS CHRIST, NOT ME.

Destruction came to Tibet and Nepal by way of flood on the third day after this word was received and occurred on the same day it was delivered. Please try, test and discern all things in Jesus Christ's Name.

Insert from above title word.

I do the same, sending the same Judgment of fire and destruction, the same yet in some instances different to the mountains of Scotland near Dunbartonshire. My judgment shall touch the British Isles, Cancun, and Tibet. Hear Me Daughter, I the Lord have spoken it.

CCTV footage from Jilong Port on the Nepal-Tibet border captures the terrifying moment a massive flash flood and mudslide suddenly tears through the border facility on August 26, 2026. What begins as a calm morning quickly turns into chaos as a towering wall of mud, water, and debris rushes down from the mountainous terrain, engulfing buildings, vehicles, and the surrounding area within seconds. People can be seen desperately running for safety as the destructive torrent overwhelms the entire complex, leaving the camera surrounded by thick mud, dust, and debris. The shocking footage highlights the extreme speed and devastating force of the disaster in the mountainous border region.

Damage to Tibet from the August 2026 Flood

The August 26, 2026 flash floods that struck the Nepal–Tibet border caused significant damage in Tibet, particularly in Gyirong County and surrounding areas.

Scale of Damage

- The floods originated from a massive glacier collapse in the Himalayas near Langtang Lirung, which triggered a debris flow down the Lhende Khola River into Tibet U.S. News & World Report +1 .
- The Gyirong Port complex, a major border crossing and gateway for trade and tourism, was destroyed by the flood and debris flow Wikipedia +1 .
- Settlements along the border, including those near the Gyirong–Rasuwagadhi corridor, were inundated, with roads, bridges, and public facilities damaged snowliontours.com .
- Satellite imagery and early assessments show large scars and missing ice/rock in the Lhende catchment, indicating extensive physical destruction Antarctic Glaciers .

Human Impact

- In Tibet, at least 3 people were confirmed killed and 558–560 people were reported missing abc News +1 .
- The disaster affected communities near the border, many of whom were part of the Mount Kailash pilgrimage circuit, which is a major religious and tourist site The Guardian .
- The Gyirong–Rasuwagadhi route, critical for cross-border travel, is expected to remain disrupted for an extended period snowliontours.com .

Infrastructure and Economic Impact

- Hydropower projects and other infrastructure along the Bhotekoshi/Trishuli river system in Nepal were destroyed, but similar facilities in Tibet were also damaged Wikipedia +1 .
- The destruction of the Gyirong Port and border infrastructure will have a major impact on trade,

- The destruction of the Gyirong Port and border infrastructure will have a major impact on trade, tourism, and cross-border connectivity in the region Wikipedia +1 .

Ongoing Situation

- Rescue and recovery operations are ongoing, but information flow from Tibet is limited due to China's strict controls, making the full extent of damage harder to assess AOL.co.uk .
- Authorities have issued flood warnings downstream in Nepal and India, and the risk of further flooding remains due to ice and debris blocking rivers The Guardian .

In summary: The August 2026 floods caused severe physical destruction in Tibet, especially at the Gyirong border crossing, with loss of life, displacement, and major damage to infrastructure and tourism routes. The full scale of the damage is still being assessed, but the event has already had a profound impact on the region.
