

The Official Announcement of the Tribulation & the Great Day of the Lord 7-1-26@2:18 PM Shared 7-2-26

"Hear ye, hear ye Daughter of Zion and of Heaven's Court the declaration of the end of days. The beginning of the tribulation on the world of man is now being pronounced to you O' inhabitants of the world, on orders of the Lord of lords, Yeshua Ha' Maschiach, Jesus the Christ, Son of the living God, rightful Judge over all the Heavens and the Earth in whom the Almighty, Faithful God of Heaven, Just and True has placed His trust and authority. It is written, it is declared, it shall be. That every knee shall bow to Him and every tongue will confess that Yeshua Ha' Maschiach, Jesus Christ is the Lord of all."

"Gabriel!" I see the Angel Gabriel in the room where I had been sitting alone with just the cats. He's standing dressed in white, but surprisingly he does not have his holy armor on this time nor are there other Angels I could see with him. I started to ask, but before I did, he spoke having read my thoughts I could tell. "There's no need currently to be accompanied or have others with me, Daughter of Zion. Michael, Uriel, Raphael and Jeremiel are near on assignment that will aid your journey Daughter of Zion and Heaven's Court. The King of all glory on orders from the Majestic God of Heaven's throne has issued more arrest warrants for the kingdom of darkness. Jesus Christ the Captain of the Hosts has filled you in on a few of the details."

"Yes He has, Gabriel, why are you here?" "I'm here to read the official announcement from Heaven's Court for the commencement of the seven years of tribulation, yet also to declare to the world the Great Day of the Lord has arrived in the world of man." "I'm listening Gabriel." The Holy Angel Gabriel had a very serious look in his blue eyes. I noticed although dressed in white he still had a gold sash that went around his left shoulder and connected to a gold belt made out of the same material that the shoulder strap was. I realized as I watched him reach to his waist there was a beautiful, solid black, short shofar horn. The shoulder strap I knew, was to help support the weight of the horn hanging on the belt around his waist. He grabs it quickly then raises it close to his face.

"Hear ye the Word of the Lord of lords, the King of all. Hear the Word of the Son of the living God who reigns and rules with honesty and truth. Grace has expired! Time is no more. The hourglass has shattered and grace's door has now been shut and sealed. Only those still being drawn of the gentiles will be those who are living on the last granules of grace and time, for the age of man." I watched Gabriel bring the black shiny shofar trumpet to his lips. He blew it three short blasts. Then he blew it long and hard, for seven times. The very air in my room seems to shift and change.

"What's going on Gabriel?" "The tribulation time has been called forth into the world of man," he said as he brought the horn down from his lips and reattached it somehow to his left side. The blonde headed Angel Gabriel then from further behind his back pulls out a small solid black scroll holder trimmed in elaborate painted scroll work patterns of gold. At each end of the scroll holder's end cap hangs a red tassel. He twists the end off one side. He lays it on a nearby table and tips over the scroll container and out comes a tiny solid black scroll into his waiting hand. He quickly breaks open the yellow seal and it sounds like air is escaping from it. I watched intently as he unrolls the scroll quickly. I see both sides of the paper are black and the clear, elegant writing is easy to read in white ink, I could tell.

"Let it be known that the time has come for the world of man to now diminish and for Jesus Christ, Yeshua Ha' Maschiach to begin the reign of His Great Day foretold to come on the morrow...these days to come... as the treasures and chambers of Heaven are at His disposal and command. Hear me now, and hear me well O' world, you are out of time and your final end has come for it's the time for the antichrist to be in control. Even his control is foreshadowed by the governing power of the God and Creator of All, Yahweh, Elohim, Jehovah, the I AM THAT I AM and His righteous Son. This time has come, this day is here. It advances now. Holy wrath has come. Justice will be had. Retribution shall be given out. Let all of Heaven declare, the Great Day of the Lord has arrived inside the world of man."

"Woes and sorrow, woes and sorrow, O' wicked world. Your time of cleansing judgment by fire has come as found written in the Scripture of Truth. Yeshua Ha' Maschiach, Jesus the Christ says to let it be known and let it be declared, "It was never about the antichrist, the man of sin's time on the Earth, but about His Great Day of holy, righteous judgment delivered in holy anger and wrath."

"The man of sin and his beast system, government and mark are part of the holy judgment against an evil wicked world. Now O' world, you will be forced to choose who will you serve? Who will you accept into your hearts and call your lord? Yeshua Ha' Maschiach, Jesus Christ, Savior of the world? Or antichrist, the man of sin, destroyer of the world?"

"Before the night shades of evening falls, before dawn's early light that occurs in raptured bliss, only after the King of all glory, Yeshua, Jesus Christ turns off the lights of the world, after Babylon-America's harlot city has been destroyed, will you see the Lamb of God's wrath begin to fall. The evening shades of night have all but passed in Heaven's clock of time for the world of man's timeline of the Earth. All that's been holding these events back have been the last traces of mercy granted that now has all but blown away in the wind as judgment marches forward."

"Hear O' world, this is your official announcement that before America-Babylon, that vile, evil, wicked land has fully fallen, all these things shall occur. Her wicked, harlot city of Manhattan will be a desolate, ruinous heap. Before the moon phases of 3 have come to be in the sky revealing the night, Babylon-America's fate will be sealed and invasion shall soon be on its way. "The days and seasons lined up by My two great lights," Yeshua Ha' Maschiach, Jesus Christ declares, "and not as the fallen ones have taught these things shall be. Look, oh, look, those truth seekers for patterns of three, like when My crucifixion came to be."

"Now O' world prepare, for the Great Day of the Lord has come.

It's a day of darkness.

A day of wrath.

A day of fear and trembling.

A day of sorrow and of many woes.

A time in which mercy is extended to none, except who Jesus Christ, Yeshua Ha' Mashiah knows that are His, and those soon coming to Him."

"Weep O' world, gnash your teeth in fear and alarm. Behold! Behold ye! The Great Day of the Lord begins now and it won't be the heat rays of the sun you feel pouring heavily upon you. But the burning fires of the Wrath of the Lamb to come. This is your official announcement O' world, from Heaven's Court for the beginning of the seven-year tribulation and the Great and Terrible Day of the Lord upon your world."

Then Gabriel, the holy Angel looked up from the scroll to me and said, "It is done. Daughter of Zion and of Heaven's Court, speak out loud the date and time in this land you abide in." "It's July 1st, 2026 at 3:53 PM." "Let It be noted it has been officially time stamped in the world of man before the hour's minutes pass 7 more times and the new hour begins. So shall these things begin on your world by Heaven's time in man's world."

I see the black scroll with the elegant white writing is quickly being rolled up tightly by the Holy Angel of God, Gabriel. I watch as he quickly replaces it back into the thin, black scroll holder he had removed it from earlier. He quickly replaces the end cap as the red tassels dangle and sways back and forth.

"Daughter of Zion and of Faith, you are instructed to prepare the official announcement for release by Yeshua Ha' Maschiach, Jesus Christ, your Lord and Savior. He will instruct you when it is to be released. At the time you declared your time and Heaven stamped it into the announcement, the time began descending downward to zero." "I understand Gabriel."

"I take my leave now. I am to return to Heaven's Court and present myself to the Holy God of Heaven and give my report. Then I shall return to aid Michael and the others being assembled to take in hand those of the kingdom of darkness that judgment's righteous hand has fallen against for others of the Lamb of God children's lives, as well as for your household, but you will not see us this time." "That's okay, Gabriel, Jesus Christ my love is always with me." "As He is with all His little ones," he replied. Then I saw the holy Angel of God's wings appear and spread out from his shoulders and back. He quickly flew through the ceiling, passing through it easily, and out of my sight.
