

The Great Reset 5-1-26@11:34 AM Shared 5-10-26

The world speaks of a great reset to come.
Many call it a hidden agenda.
Some call it Nesara-Gesarara.
Some call it the beast's reign.
Daughter, they're all wrong, none of these are correct.

"There is a great reset coming, but it's one by My Father's command, and it is not as the world supposes it shall be. Hear Me Daughter, you have been praying and seeking Me, seeking My Father about coming things to your world and how it's going to affect those left behind." "Yes I have, my Lord, almost continuously."

"Here is the great reset that shall come by My command as Righteous Judge and Lord over this world and all that's been created.

I send My 3 days of darkness over the world like what covered the land of Egypt. Although many leaders are warning subtly their nation's people of possible blackouts or grid failures from the sun's solar activity so when the darkness falls, they will think this is what has come until it fully descends, then Daughter, the whole world will know this is not an ordinary darkness.

When the darkness lifts on the 3rd day, when My bride is removed, slowly the power grids in different locations will start being turned on. It cannot be an immediate restoration of power because the surge and demand from all the devices, appliances, and such like can cause an overloading of man's man-built systems and cause them to fail again, but this time it would become permanent in most places. Some places in your world already do not have the supplies on hand for such repairs or restoration. This is their thinking.

I say, I shall not allow all power to be restored once the darkness has lifted. My great reset includes the removal of electrical power and modern day conveniences, for such an evil world full of pride and bountifulness that won't even help someone in need.

Many nations shall have their power restored, some will not. Some lands like your nation of America-Babylon will need their power restored in most locations to aid in your nation's defense until all My children are safely removed one way or another from her wicked borders, but it will not be every location, or all locations having power at the same time. It will be on a needed basis determined by Me, Jesus Christ, Son of God, Yeshua Ha' Mashiach, Righteous Judge and King of all kings... even over the Earth. In addition, the returning of power in each nation will not be as simple as they assumed it would be in the areas it shall be allowed to be restored.

Think of it like this, Daughter, a reset back to the time of pioneer days, but with the inclusion of man being able to communicate by way of the internet and towers. I shall allow some use of the frequencies and waves in the air for such use, but they shall never be stable. They shall be constantly changing and fluctuating as the life force of the, then already shattered black magnetic rock mountain continues to dwindle and fade. I have shared with you, this black mountain was like the heartbeat of the Earth's life force. This too shall aid in the news still being spread and broadcasted, revealing antichrist stepping into ruling position, the fake aliens arrival, and all that is needed, but nothing extra for the world antichrist rules, except where My children are concerned. They shall be hidden in so many ways by My command that lucifer's kingdom has no perception or knowledge of, nor do they need to know. I am God! I am Lord of all lords and King of kings, he is not, they are not.

In other lands where the center of activity is occurring, fulfilling My written Word, they shall have their power restored, but in limited supplies, their written agenda of 2030, but their herding the people in the cities so they can rule and control the people easier, is not My plan! Instead, these locations to control the people shall be where they shall have to reside to have the use of the power, and their own evil people and inhabitants somewhere to live. It's in the places where the enemy had planned to cause the people to have to leave and abandon in desperation for survival, so they could take possession of the land, the water, and such like they possessed, that you shall now be restricted from O' kingdom of darkness.

In My great reset, famine and dearth covers the whole Earth and its effects shall be felt upon the elite of your world, Daughter, all the way to the antichrist's kingdom. Although, those loyal to him will not suffer as much, nor their lands at first, compared to those who choose to rise up against his evil ways, except, for My true ones. I shall supply all their needs, after all I own it all. It's through the lack of food that antichrist chooses to use as his leveraging tool when broadcasting the benefits of his mark of the beast.

The handheld scanners that antichrist's forces will carry to be able to scan a person's forehead or hand to see if they bear his mark are already created with a rechargeable system, as well as a walk-in mark of the beast standing ones. Therefore, the lack of power in places will not affect his militia, his evil regime from proceeding in their work protocol to identify those who are marked or unmarked. The portable handheld scanners will also have the ability by adjusting the settings to administer the mark of the beast anywhere in the world to someone unmarked who decides to take it when scanned. These devices as I have shown you Daughter are already built, completed and waiting for the man of sin, antichrist to step into power.

Even without the power grids and such like being restored, even if it all never came back on again, Daughter the human body has electrical currents inside it upon its creation that would still allow the nanotechnology in each person to receive antichrist's mark to stay connected to his collective hive. So, he can stay in absolute control of those who are marked at all times when, once the last piece needed, that final piece still hidden in Atlantis that shall soon return to the surface, that shall allow his hive to have the only one stable frequency left for his evil kingdom to use.

Now in this great reset of Father God's and Mine, inside the angel barriers of protection, things will be different, because My presence of peace, joy, and love, My presence as their Holy Creator shall bring a balance where My true ones are found located that shall allow them to prosper in all they do to survive.

Now Daughter of Mine, you were seeking Me more about the horses and other animals mentioned like in Zechariah 14:15 which speaks of the horses, the camels, and asses in the camp being struck by the same plague as those that fought against Jerusalem. Here is your answer. The enemy forces have studied My Word but with no clear understanding except what they have learned from My true children over the centuries of man's existence.

As these things come to an end, the enemy knows through verses like this one you mentioned and I just referenced, that most likely, there will be a shortage of natural resources such as gas, oil, diesel and such like. They have underground vast amounts of pure-breed animals. Some for eating, while others to be used in addition to what military vehicles and such like they have to fight in the coming wars. Most animals above ground will either be eaten or turn on the inhabitants of the world... those remaining even more than now. But below ground to ensure the battle of Armageddon and other wars in the end times days can be fought, these vast quantities of different species are placed all over the world with the food and water enough to ensure their survival.

This has been allowed, but will be reduced to only what they will need. Some I shall use for My very own to supply their needs. For I love them dearly even though many will be living in these times because they were not sincere in their relationship with Me prior, or were walking in sin and disobedience when I returned for My spotless white bride.

My great reset involves a world with less surveillance control, less electronics, and technology than what antichrist thought he would have. What My children don't realize, because they're enslaved to a life of ease and luxury in many locations, is this has left you ill-prepared.

These things are being removed to give you a better chance at true survival, but do not forget this is also the time of judgment upon this world and wicked evil Babylon-America. All who are left will see My wrath fall. You shall experience horror upon horror, as the world you once knew is destroyed by holy judgment and the effects on your world caused by man's manipulation of its air, soil, and water by their use of the fallen ones' technology and their worship of them.

Even after the fallen ones arrive as the fake aliens, also calling themselves the long-awaited anunnaki, the world will see a brief improvement in its appearance, but it will only be for a moment. Long enough to firmly establish antichrist's ruling position. Then I shall knock the supporting legs of hypocrisy and deception out from under the so-called aliens from outer space whose narrative will change somewhat from what has been told in the past times when everything is cast out of My heavens and they realize they can no longer use any of My doorway openings and portals on the Earth. None, Daughter, whatsoever.

So many of My own children brushed My words of warning aside when I declared I was destroying and removing the planets in the heavens because they were not created by my command but the enemy after being cast out of My Heaven. Yet these very same children know and believe that planet Nibiru, planet x is being guided by the enemy and filled with the nephilim to return to Earth at the appointed time. It is a ship created like a planet. Therefore this is how some deceptions taught by the kingdom of darkness that's taught to your world keeps My people bound in deception when they were meant to be free, completely free.

When man first determined the Earth was moving it was only after movement of one of these so-called planets moved and was seen. Now put the pieces together and read what My Word says about My Earth being stationary and unmoving, but ask Me for My truth and all deception to be removed in the power of My Name. First, break all agreements and such like known to My Father in all His existence. Then proceed and My Holy Spirit shall lead you to the truth and out of deception's web, for He is the Spirit of Truth. The breath of My Father, the voice of Witness of who I am. He is the Revealer of Truth.
