

The Whirlwind Dream 8-15-23 Journalled on 8-17-23 @8:24 AM

“Lord, I have dreamed most every night. A few nights ago... two nights, I dreamed of a large movie screen with a spinning whirlwind in the center that was so huge and massive. As it was spinning, I saw pictures of Putin’s face... missiles, Kim Jong Un, Xi Jing Ping... trucks, jeeps and so much more. I saw those I know who are in the hidden elite society, including the council of 13. All this was being shown at various times as this massive tornado seemed to grow larger and larger in its size. (There was so much that I couldn’t write it all down.) The tornado was dark, black, and ugly. It was, I knew a destroying twister. A destroying storm. I saw the man of sin, the antichrist sticking out of the top of this whirlwind with his hands raised up to the air. In one hand he had what appeared to be the computer language. The binary codes coming out of his left hand. In his right hand he had papers with writing on them. They appeared to be deeds of ownership, and they were for the whole world.

I felt in this dream from my lovely Jesus, that he, antichrist, was controlling the stormy whirlwind, this tornado of destruction. The gigantic stormy whirlwind had originated in Europe. I can see by a flat map of the world in bright colors of each continent being displayed and I remember China appeared almost as salmon in color, but my eyes were drawn to the deep color purple beneath the spinning whirlwind of destruction that clearly marked Europe. Then I heard the man of sin, antichrist on top of the whirlwind’s funnel cloud shout a command and it began moving slowly at first and then increased its speed greatly. It made a straight line for America and soon as it reached the center, it stayed there. No longer traveling but still spinning ferociously. But now it’s shooting out lightning in all directions, and people, objects, weapons and vehicles are being thrown out upon various locations in America. Suddenly, from the middle of the movie screen, tiny words appeared that grew to very large. The words had the appearance of the title of like Indiana Jones movies I used to watch until Holy Spirit, my sweet friend, convicted me of doing this, showing me the wicked evil things satan had hidden within. I had since repented of this and only watch, if anything, what He leads me to do. The title reads, ‘Coming to America This Fall, before the fall.’ Then it was gone.

I’m staring into nothing, just blackness. “What does this mean, these words of ‘this fall before the fall?’ I asked out loud. I heard a voice from above me, from Heaven and I felt that it filled the whole area, yet at the same time felt like a great quiet whisper. “Search the matter out, little daughter. ‘A fall’ is not necessarily the fall you assume, nor the obvious answer you are seeking correctly. Every word given must be spiritually discerned, because the obvious may be the obvious, but then yet again it can mean so much more. Herein lies part of the answers for some of the questions you have been faithfully and earnestly seeking Me for.” Then I awoke.

“Jesus, I have been seeking You many times about numerous things. You are faithful, so I won’t stop now. Holy Spirit, sweet, sweet friend, lead me and teach me the truth of all my lovely Jesus Christ is revealing, I pray and ask in Jesus’ sweet Name.” “I will, daughter of Zion, I am. Follow Me closely, and I shall lead you to the truth of what these words really mean.” “Thank You, dear friend, thank You.” Then He gave me this as I was asking about ‘This fall before the fall.’ This is what He said, “This fall can mean: this very one right here and right now; or it can mean this fall, as in this particular one God's talking about, and not necessarily the one coming up next." An example He gave me was 'The Day of the Lord.' 'This day' can be referring to the one He's talking about, the special event, or it can be talking about the actual 'this fall.' Fall can be fall as in this season, or it can represent something that's going to fall.
