

Balm Of Gilead & Evil Putin 8-19-20@6:17AM

“I am the Balm of Gilead to the broken of heart. The healing salve that can heal and bring restoration to the most broken of hearts. My Blood, this salve, this Balm of Gilead, if you will ask it of Me in My Name and trust Me, I will apply My Blood, this royal, holy Blood that brings healing and restoration to your wounds, these hurts made by the hands of those you hold dear to your heart. Did not I warn you Child? Did not I tell you that even though you may guard yourself around most people, around others, it is around family and friends? Those you love most next to Me. Those... because you love them so much that you feel safe enough around them to let your guard down, and when you do, your heart is exposed. The enemy will strike through them, strike deep into your heart, ripping veins and arteries, causing intense pain and bleeding from the dagger, the knife, even in some cases a massive sword that leaves a gaping hole in the middle of your heart. If it were not for Me, these wounds would be unrepairable. But Child, precious little one, I am here, and I, I am the Healer, your Healer. I am the Restorer of your health, your mind, your spirit, your everything. But Child, you have to let Me do these things for you which means you have to release the pain, these hurts into My loving hands, not hold onto them. For refusal to release them to Me, to forgive those who have wounded you and left you for dead after their painful deadly blows...for most times there will be more than one that will cause the wound to stay continually fresh, painful, and unhealed... for your healing to take place, you must, as I have said, bring these things, these pains, these crushed dreams, your hopes that are now broken for those you love and hold dear,...and again I say, then lay them down before Me. Place them into My loving hands. Spread them out into My hands just like King Hezekiah spread the threatening letter from Sennacherib, the Assyrian king who rose up against him. When you place your hurts, your heartaches and pain here inside My strong and powerful, mighty hands, and do not Child, do not pick them back up, then I can, and I will move on your behalf, on the behalves of all My true little children who have found themselves wounded, and wounded deeply.”

“When I went to the cross Child, to die for all lost mankind, for the restoration of their souls, before I was even stripped naked, and placed upon the cruel cross at Calvary, and yes, Child, it was a cruel way to die, to perish, and yes, I even went willingly.....for they did not have to force Me at all...but again I say, Child, while in the custody of both Pontius Pilate, and King Herod over the Jews, while in their ‘care,’ I was beaten, spit upon,smacked, buffeted, kicked, mocked, laughed at, and scorned to name but a few. But at the whipping post Child, at the whipping post as they yanked the cat of nine tails across My flesh, for yes, Child this is what they used on My body, and tore and ripped open My flesh, even down to the bone in some instances, with each chunk of My flesh that was removed, with each stripe, My blood flowed...and it flowed freely, this Child, is for your healing. The complete healing of your earthly body. The gift of Salvation is for your soul. The brutal shoving of the crown of thorns that did not just pierce My skin and scalp, but ripped and sliced it also, this Child, this is for the healing of your mind... for the sound and healthy mind that you can possess in Me. I am the Balm of Gilead to your physical body, as well as your spiritual, for if you will let Me, I will heal the hidden, unseen hurts, the wounds you try to keep hidden from the eyes of the world, or other people you love. You are not hiding it, these wounds from Me Child, for I am all knowing and do not forget I see all too.”

“What is the Balm of Gilead you ask, Child? It is a beautifully smelling perfume medicine used, Child, for many things, but its main use is for healing wounds. It is a wound healer. I am the world’s Balm of Gilead, for I am the Savior of your world, the hope for all mankind. Your world is broken Child, for they as a whole have refused to return unto Me and to accept My blessed gift of hope, My gift of Salvation. But all those who do, the few among the many, when they accept Me, Jesus, Son of God Jehovah into their hearts, they now know Me as the Balm of Gilead, their healer of their once sin, diseased soul. As Our relationships grow and blossom in the beauty of My perfect love, they will also find that I am their Balm of Gilead for their physical bodies and ailments. Yet, when they get wounded of heart, when betrayal of friends, and yes, family, most definitely family, then when you give these hurts, betrayals, and pains to Me, fully to Me, you will see Me in My true glory as the Balm of Gilead for your broken, bleeding, wounded hearts and souls. If you allow Me, I will bring complete healing and restoration into your heart, your mind, and your life, but you have to pray for those that hurt and spitefully use you. Because this starts the healing process deep within your soul, your heart. If you’re not careful Child, you, as you are continually hurt by someone you love...for in most cases they will strike more than once and at different times...you must guard your own heart and pray for them earnestly, sincerely, and it will also heap coals of fire upon their heads. But again I say, if you allow yourself to put a wall between you and this person, or these people in some cases and you refuse to allow them in again, tell Me how can you love them like I did while on the earth, like I still do now? I am not telling you to not guard yourself or to not be cautious, but if you are in full defensive mode and the person, or persons come to you in forgiveness or in need, when they feel your rejection, your invisible wall, this defensive hedge you have placed around yourself... which is a natural thing to do to try to protect yourself from being hurt again,, how can you be My hands of comfort, a voice of compassion and concern when you’re hiding yourself behind a wall of self made defenses? Again, I am not telling you to leave yourself totally unguarded or unprotected, for if you pray, and pray continually and let My Holy Spirit lead you in all ways, and yes, this includes the operation of your mouth, the use of your words, most, but not all of these instances of hurt, of wounding could have been avoided.”

“Remember Child, oil and water does not mix, neither light with darkness, so when one person is holy in Me and the other person unholy, diseased by sin and you are dealing with people you love, because the anointing, My holy presence is within your life...for I dwell in the hearts of My true believers...why do you think they strike for your heart? My anointing aggravates the demons that they are either oppressed with, or possessed by! The deepest, most painful hurt though Child, that you, as My true Child, one of Mine is not from your actual, physical family members, although this in itself can be devastating. You will find that a blow from your fellow brother, your sister in Me who are supposed to be joined in battle for lost souls, and to fight the evil forces of satan and his demonic horde... and while on this great battlefield as you are standing and fighting in My name, side by side... all of a sudden you feel a piercing blow in your back, in your mind, and deep into your heart. You look up to see from whence it has come during the heat of the battle, and when you see the sword dripping with your blood in the hands of your brother, of your sister, then you will know just as I did when Judas Iscariot sold Me out for just 30 pieces of silver, you have just experienced the ultimate betrayal! Because instead of standing and fighting together in this battle for lost souls, the enemy has somehow deceived your brother, or your sister in Me, and now they have started self-mutilating their own body as they try to destroy you, for My body, your bodies all become one in Me. When you go after one of My little ones, and most times you do it in My Name...although the true intent of your hearts are impure when you check yourself... you are cutting off an arm, a foot, a hand, and even will try to slit My throat if I did not step in and intervene. These hurts and betrayals you will find to be worse, for if you did not run to Me and lay it at My feet and begin truly, deep within your heart to pray for this brother or sister, then you will find yourself in a place not only questioning your Salvation, but My very existence as well. This can place you on very dangerous ground, and open you up for great deception on the part of the enemy!”

“Why, you ask Child, within your heart, when we are on the brink of this war of nations, are We talking about broken hearts? I will tell you, Child. The welfare of My beloved little children is on the highest rung of this ladder of life, right next to Salvation and deliverance. My people need to know that when they are hurt and even betrayed,...for this war shall bring out the worst of some people, while the good in others...they need to be made aware of now, that they have to lay it down before Me and not pick it back up for true healing to begin. Most will find they have no church to go to or even gas to get there if they were holding service. Nor after this war begins will they have the ability to just turn on their TV’s, or even access the internet, because when these things are restored into operation, they will be controlled by your military and government, and controlled tightly. Church services will not be very high upon their lists of what is necessary for the survival of your stricken nation. Again your once great nation, your leaders will fail at keeping Me from the people, for I am, and will be the only hope for your nation to survive this war of nations!” “I understand Jesus, that You are addressing these things in advance of what we are going to face, so that we will know how to handle them even though some of us are already experiencing a wounded heart.” “Yes, Child, yes. You are correct, for to learn this lesson of truth before enduring it through the many hardships and horrors of war shall keep many of My people from having to struggle so severely. The trials shall still come, but they will be armed with knowledge in advance of how to combat this when it does come onto this great battlefield of life, and it will Child, along with many other things. For it shall be a great time of desperation for the unsaved, dying, lost soul as well as some of My own who refuse to trust in Me fully to supply their need and will not follow and obey the leading of My Holy Spirit, choosing rather to trust in their own wisdom, their own abilities, to trust in themselves, and what they ‘think’ they know best.”

“Tell Me Child, just who gave them their wisdom and their abilities? My Child, if I gave them to these defiant and stubborn little children, don’t you think that Holy Spirit, being the same as Me, for We are One, yet We are separate...He knows just what they will need to do with, yes, all these abilities given to them by Me to lead them to do exactly what they need to do for Me to meet their need? Your need Child, and not your want. Your broken world is about to become devastated. All because of sin, and man’s love of it which has led them to choose not to repent from their evil wicked ways, choosing rather to continue to operate in the lusts of the flesh when even the most simplest of minds of your world can sense, and even know something is getting ready to happen. If man continues on his set course they will soon destroy each other. For as your nation’s morals, and values of righteousness, of peace and love were traded for debauchery and the willful pleasuring of their flesh...the whole world as well, the people as a whole and not the individuals who are earnestly seeking Me... but for your failure to repent and even for the total and complete destruction of many upon your world, judgment has been pronounced. Called forth after man's sins, each and everyone, both the individual, and as a whole, were weighed in the balance and the people as a whole, of your nation, and of the world... they have been found guilty! You will now enter this war of nations that sits already upon your world as the evil Putin plays with the hair trigger, while sitting in his massive chair that he privately refers to as his throne, playing lovingly with gun in hand. His master satan has whispered in his ear," Soon Vladimer, soon," and so he waits patiently, lovingly stroking his hair trigger on his gun. His guns being his arsenal of weapons compiled from the power of the nuclei. But he has not stopped there, for his country, his nation, the bear, of Russia also contains hidden within the mountain regions of his country such labs as the one in Wuhan, China where this Coronavirus, this Covid-19 was manufactured and accidentally released by the mishandling of a leaky vial. His labs, the evil Putin's, contain many such weapons, because this is what they have been created for. Many, they have no cure, no known antidote as you call them, yet, they continue to create, even after they have witnessed the effects of this aforementioned virus."

"He is also mass producing these weapons of the chemical nature which hold the capabilities to wipe out large cities, their inhabitants without as much as a single fight, a single lifting of a hand against his invading forces. Yes, Child, he shall bring some of these and unleash them during his invasion upon your soil, for he is ruthless of heart and will show no mercy to your nation's people and neither will the wicked Xi Jinping. The king of the east, whose ancient art of torturing people shall as you say, 'Gives Putin a run for his money.' You need to be made aware of these things Child, in advance so that when you hear of such atrocities, you will be somewhat prepared and instead of standing in stunned horror, you will be more quickly able to drop down to your knees and cry out for Me to send aid and help for the many horrors that the people of your world are enduring. But Child, do not deceive yourself into believing your nation will be innocent in the treatment of your enemy, for your nation and your leaders, remember Child, their hearts are evil as well, full of much sin and wickedness. The only thing is they will be more secretive in their mishandling of their prisoners of war and those of their own people they will deem as traitors, and enemies of your once great nation. Remember there will be other nations aiding your devastated nation who will not take kindly to the mishandling of people in any way and will continually refer your leaders, your government back to the terms of the 'Geneva Convention,' which was set up for the protection of such prisoners of war, and their mishandlings."

"Do not be surprised Child, when I know of such things upon your world, for I have told you repeatedly, I am all knowing Child. I know every word, of every language that's ever been spoken, that is being spoken, and will be spoken since I created man. How do you think I am able to talk to each man, each person after I scrambled their language when they had begun creating, and building the Tower of Babel upon your world so many of your years ago? There is nothing that I cannot do that does not go against My divine, holy nature. I created the Heavens, the earth, and all that you see and even the unseen by spoken commands, for My voice, My spoken word is all powerful and this is why I speak no idle words. War is here! It's here, it's here, it's here! I am still trying to bring this fact to the other people's realization, for you are out of time. I am almost now completely done. As I told you yesterday Child, all the players, the leaders and rulers of these soon to be invading and attacking countries are pacing back and forth in eager anticipation, like a caged lion who's steadily, and constantly on the prowl, and looking for a way out. While Putin, ole sly and conniving, the very much evil leader of the bear, of Russia sits casually in his high backed, wing chair caressing his pistol. Or in this case, lovingly stroking the case known in your country as the 'nuclear football,.' He knows it won't be long now, for as he watches your economy of your once great nation fall deeper into disarray, as your people and your government allows itself to become more divided, he knows, he knows the time is right. This is what he has been waiting on for all these many years. A crack in your armor, and he is in no hurry. He's been patient for years. Many have joined, but he can't keep the drool of salvia from running down his mouth, as he licks his lips in anticipation at all the mayhem, the deaths, and destruction that his command, that his power shall create. Because he sees himself as 'god' among men, as untouchable, just as your nation's president views himself, and this shall be the downfall of each. For only I, only I am God and sits among the heights of Heaven and in the earth, not lowly man, the created. I have told you the fate of the evil Putin, but if he repents, he has the chance to change his fate, but it is currently not in his heart to do so."

"Man cannot stop this war and no matter how you try to hide behind your rose colored glasses, and continue to believe in the lie that it won't happen here, for we have the favor of 'God' upon our nation. It's here! Look around O' foolish one and tell Me do you see proof of My influence upon your ungodly lives? No, Child, and this is as I have said in prior times past. When mankind as a whole, and your once great nation in particular, chose to kick Me out of your hearts, your lives, removing Me out of your homes and families, your schools, your churches, your government, even your military, I left and when I did I removed My favor, My blessings, and My protection off of your now evil, and sinful nation. What little favor that your nation holds within My eyes is from your continual faithfulness in remaining an ally to My beloved nation Israel."

1 John 1:9 If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.
