

My Wrath, the Ungodly & the Left Behind 9-3-26@2:55 AM Shared 9-5-26

And then they will know, I, the Lord, am God.

As the days draw closer to the end of days for mankind, the enemy rages more and more. But Daughter, O' Daughter of Mine, My Name has not diminished in its power, nor will it ever.

When the man of sin sits on the throne of power ruling all the earth, his power given to him by lucifer the dragon, it will be a time when the saints of God, My children shall be placed in the hands of the enemy. Not all Daughter, but some. What does this mean for them?

These are those whose hearts were unfaithful. They were not ready when I returned for My bride. These would also be those that resisted My Holy Spirit's call to repentance until during this time. These actions are what caused those left behind to be enduring this time of My wrath that's falling during the tribulation period.

What this means Daughter it is like with Job, My hedge of protection will be let down so that My children are touchable to the enemy. My power will not diminish ever and is still available to all, but those who find themselves inside the tribulation period that's falling upon your world, most will not understand the full power of My Name Jesus Christ, Yeshua Ha' Mashiach, nor the authority found within it. If they had known beforehand, most would not find themselves there.

My wrath is reserved for the ungodly and the rebellious. The unrighteous and the evil ones. It's not meant for those who belong to me. My children, once they accept Me into their hearts as Lord and Savior are sealed by the Holy Ghost once My Blood washes them clean and redeems them.

Many want to argue about My Written Word. Some say My children will endure the horrors of the tribulation period, meaning all My children while others say they will not. Hear Me children, do not contend and argue over My Word. It will only cause you to become further divided in a time when My body needs to unite and stand together. My Word must be discerned, understood through the Holy Spirit, My Father's Spirit who shall reveal the truth to all who ask that are Mine for the understanding. Most times it's piece by piece, a little by little, so when the understanding is given, it sticks with you like a foundational truth.

Little Daughter, beloved of Mine, these things are ready to begin upon your world. The fuse has already been lit and has been slowly burning down. Soon all things will explode!

Putin has begun setting his eyes on Israel as he watches carefully all the eagle's actions. For America-Babylon tries to put on a display of force and might, yet the world sees through the cracks in the facade she presents to the world. A House divided shall fall and fall she will!

All that has been spoken by many of My children has now become clear and evident for many in your world today.

I'm about to crank up the heat, as your world says in some places, as judgment's hand of furious fire falls further. I purge this world of the rebellious and unrepented. I purge it of the evil deeds and spilt blood. I am My Father's Son. We are One. I do His will for We are of One mind too. The Son does nothing without it being the Father's will. I love My Father and He loves Me and those He's given Me shall feel Our love together, yet also separate.

Daughter of Mine, many still do not see how close this world is to destruction, but their eyes are on the world's Doomsday clock and the wars raging. They should be focused on the holy judgment I've been sending. Some of the so-called strange anomalies many are contributing to man's ability to control the weather are in error.

What is the cause of such things is My command, the Holy Angels on assignments, and the diminishing power and hold of the magnetic black rock mountain located beneath the North Star, of Polaris. I am controlling the weather now in My earth, not man, not fallen angel, not their technology, and I am referring to the churning of the oceans and seas, the waters on the earth, the tornadic events of nature's fury, the hail, the fires, the earthquakes, as I further stir that which is connected to your world's Ring of Fire.

I have limited what man can do already even before the seven-year tribulation period has begun.

Many of My children have been feeling stressed and like they have been pulled taunt, and about to break. The Refiner's Fire will do this at times. Children, relax in Me. Cast your burdens and cares at My feet. You don't have to carry or do these things alone. You do not have to try to see how much you can carry alone before you reach out to Me. Give your loads to Me and let's walk your journey together.

My way, My yoke is easy and My burden is light. Not weighty like what you're trying to carry on your own. You have nothing to prove to anyone, not even yourselves. You have been redeemed and justified by My applied Blood to your lives. You belong to Father's Kingdom now. Lay your burdens down at My feet and I will carry them for you. Take joy in Me and your journey will become sweeter as you bask in My love.

I long for a closer relationship with each of My children. Take My hand, let Me lead you these last few steps before I return. I love you, My children and I'm coming for those who are ready in clean, pure garments. It's time for the wedding music to begin and the bride to arrive in Heaven.

How I've longed so much for this time. Be ready children, be ready, for I come to take you to My Father. I come with a shout of exaltation of great joy and before the last trumpet has finished its blast in the heavens you'll be forever with My Father and Me.
