

The 3 Days of Darkness Judgment 1-20-26@8:53 PM

"Daughter of Mine, I wish to speak to you." "I'm here Father God, my lovely Jesus Christ."

On the winds of the morrow, the darkness for 3 days comes. My children have been patient, and My children have also been impatient at times as I've taken them, through you and other of My children, how My nature really is. Instead of taking a piece here of My Word, another piece in another place, then declaring this is My Divine nature. If you should take all the Written Scripture and other things given to mankind through My Holy Spirit, you would still not understand fully My Divine holy nature. My way to higher than yours, past man's understanding, even if every man, every woman, ever born to this world, the Earth combined all they have known and learned.

The fallen ones have painted a twisted picture of Me inside the very walls and places of worship of My people, My children. Yes, I am Love. Love itself, but not love in mankind or fallen angels' understanding. Even the holy Host in Heaven staggered in the realization of what was going to be done to redeem mankind back to Me. I would send My Son who was to be called Jesus by your language translation of My Written Word, daughter, given to man out of love through My Spirit. Another gift to man, My Holy Spirit, the Comforter for mankind in this evil world.

So, now many have walked away daughter, and the words of warning I have spoken through you, because deep down they don't want to understand how I, in divine power and love, move on behalf of My children. That is unless it's them or for someone they are concerned for. Many scoffed when My Son refrained from sending the 3 days of darkness during the time of man's jolly ole time of christmas. His hand was stayed out of mercy for His children, because so many do not understand how having items and things that are used in the same way as the heathen and pagans in the rituals, would have caused so many more to fight more battles than if He had waited.

The day for the darkness to descend, daughter, is set. What this means in your understanding is it has a set date that the three days of darkness cannot go past. This set date is the last possible day in man's timeline for it to descend and still fall in line with My end time days. So, the set day is the last possible day in the world of man in Earth's timeline, so the tribulation can be again.

What else does this mean, My beloved daughter of Mine? It means should He so choose, He can bring it anytime before, or on the set day itself. As He has spoken though, daughter, He has turned the tide in favor of His bride, in favor of His return.

When a guilty sentence is declared and judgment is called forth daughter, even in the administering of the pronounced sentence mercy is given. Time is allowed for true repentance. Think of it like this, so you can understand what I speak to you.

Draw a straight line going up and down. In the middle of the line is where the called judgment would be in man's timeline. If mercy is granted, the judgment can be pushed back, push down further away from the top giving mankind more time out of love. But also, if repentance is failed to be found, and the plummet line is issued and failed, if I so choose, I can pull the judgment forward to occur sooner. It's like a slider scale of time wherein all I have commanded can come to pass, yet also mercy's requirements in My love can be met, because all I do is out of love. This is also how the creation of a new truth is made when dealing in the affairs of man.

When the set day is reached for a judgment, then it shall occur. This is when the prophetic word given becomes an unconditional one. It's going to happen no matter what prayers are prayed, no matter what man or fallen ones do they cannot change it. It's coming!

This is where the three days of darkness judgment is now at. It has a final, unmoving day, but My Son came to Me, daughter, on behalf of His beautiful bride. The tide has been turned in their favor, while the kingdom of darkness, lucifer's kingdom, is still desperately trying to find out when it comes. They're watching the sky and the sun's activities as a try to hide the skies so My children will be caught unaware and unable to see the Northern lights, the dancing auroras to come.

As My Son likes to say, 'SURPRISE!' it's by other means I shall cause the lights to come pouring through, and not in the sun's activity alone. For I am god. I created the sun. I created the atmosphere. I created all that man sees and what he does not. So, I shall simply speak what is to be, and then My children with listening hearts, and ears, with watchful eyes like you daughter, shall see the dancing lights. Even if lucifer were to concrete the atmosphere to where the sun could never be seen again.

I have declared it. I am God, daughter, it is so. It can be no other way, for I have spoken these matters into existence before I spoke with you when I called you to Me a short while ago.
