

A Word for the Church 9-9-19@12:12 AM

"It's time for My church, My people, to arise from the ashes of their shattered lives and be restored unto Me once again, for I am calling unto My sheep, My people to come unto Me. A time of great refreshing is on its way as I bring forth the winds of change before the time of judgment is at hand. Pray, Child, weep for the lost, for the harvest is ready unto the gleaning, but where are the workers? They are asleep and must be woken out of their spiritual slumber.

Awake, Awake, My church! Come forth from your slumber. The time of sleeping is past and the work is at hand. The time of restoration for My true church is upon you. I say to you again, 'Awake,' for the harvest is ripe, is ready for the reaping. Awake, do not let this time of refreshing pass from among you. Sound the alarm throughout the nations for soon I will return for My bride, My true church, My chosen few and soon after, very soon the time of judgements will befall the nations across the earth. As Father God steps off the Throne of Mercy unto the great and terrible Seat of Judgement.

Awake, My church, awake! Take off your clothes of the graveyard and put on your robes of righteousness once again. I will forgive the backslidings of your hearts and restore you unto Me once again, for I am love and I love My bride, My true church, dearly. Awake, church, again I say awake! You must awake... NOW!"
