

I'm About to Shake Up President Trump 9-21-26@1:44 PM Shared 9-22-26

Many are the days of the affliction of the righteous, Daughter of Mine, but I preserve those who are Mine, who will let Me. Even at times, most times when they're unaware. My Holy Angels are keeping watch over them both night and day. The way is hard and the road is narrow but all who will persevere shall have a Crown of Life Father and I have prepared for them. So hold on, for many it's the last mile of the way for I soon come from My bride.

Destruction's hand of judgment falls harder and swifter. I'm about to shake up your nation's president Trump in ways that will make him stop and take a good look at the loyalties of those he is serving even before he is betrayed by the hidden secret society, the council of 13 and Vladimir Putin who he secretly calls friend, having struck deals and bargains in covert meetings in the shadows of other advertised meetings broadcasted and announced to your world's public eye. This shall place him on alert and will help him escape the plans to remove him prematurely before I say he shall exit from his seat of power only to return before Putin fires his first strike upon Babylon-America's vile soil.
