

War 9-10-19@2:02 AM

“Come, Child, come and let us reason together on these events about to take place on the face of the earth. Wars of such great atrocities are coming, clearing a path for destruction and mayhem to take place. Wars of chemicals, wars of germs, wars of unimaginable horrors taking the lives of many a lost souls. Time as you know it, the age of peace and prosperity will become a thing of the past, as men’s hearts grow colder and colder until they reach the point of no return. Reprobates will they have become in the eyes of God Almighty who was and is, and is to come. Fear of such magnitude shall be brought forth upon the hearts of men who have grown cold. It is the time of great apostasy for those of the church. The Christian faith will become a thing of the past as millions of believers across the face of the earth, turn their hearts unto the New World Ordered Church. A church made up of all gods of all beliefs combined into one. The time of this great church is even upon you as we speak as it has been... being lined up to break forth for centuries now. As mankind would follow after every new doctrine, every other false god, under the sun. I am the one, true and living God Jehovah. I am the Creator of the Heavens and the earth. I am all powerful, all hearing, and all knowing. I will not accept praise from a religion made up of false gods! I seek perfect praise from the hearts of the humble and contrite, from those who have accepted My Son Jesus as Lord of their lives. Come, ye unto Me. Come, ye all while there is still time. The time of decision is upon you. Ye have a choice to make. Whom will ye serve this day, God, My Father or Lucifer the great deceiver?”

Now Jesus Christ is speaking:

“For soon a time of judgement will break forth upon all the earth and peace shall flee before its face. The full fury of nature’s wrath shall fall hard upon all the earth. “Storms of the Centuries” will become an ever occurring occurrence as floods of great destruction come forth. As the waters of the earth will no longer be held back by Father God’s boundaries that have been placed into existence long ago during the creation of this earth. Floods of destruction... causing utter chaos as the loss of life and properties reach a record high. Whirlwinds of great magnitude will rip up their surroundings as they consume everything in their ravenous paths. Lightening and thunderings shall be heard in the Heavens. Hail mingled with fire and blood rains down leaving a trail of bloody, fiery proportion as ice of great widths falls down upon mankind striking blows of death and fear upon the inhabitants of the earth. But, Child, this is only the beginning as wars break forth. Plagues and disease shall run rampant causing the death toll to rise to an un-precedent number. Millions will consume away as their very flesh rots upon what’s left of their bodies. A time of great wailing. A time of great woe for Father God is no longer on His Seat of Mercy, but on the Seat of Judgment.”

“Perilous times, Child, perilous times will be upon the earth. A time of great famine will fall from nation to nation, from country to country, from village to village as even the rich, the powerful, the select few of privilege began to want as the crops began to fail and mankind swiftly uses their great storehouse of food that will become tarnished from disease. Disease brought forth from the judgements of God. For too long has Father God sat idly by while mankind delved deeper into their sin and debauchery. I am a God of long suffering, of pity and compassion, but your sins have come up before Me into My Holy of Holies into My holy mountain, and you have been weighed and found wanting in the balances. The time of reaping is past and ye shall be consumed by your sins, by the lusts of your flesh. Your depravity of mind will reach a new level of high as mankind delves deeper and deeper into their sins no longer to be the creation of God, but the product of the evil one, lucifer himself.”

“He is the root of all sins. He is sin itself. Fleshly desires are brought to mind by him and the fallen ones... demons as they are called by the earth. Child, the decline of man’s God given morals, they will fall into decay, such decay that the very act of kindness will be all but lost unto man. Many woes shall befall mankind as their hearts become filled fuller and fuller with bitterness and such malice. Death will be released from its holding place to freely spread across the earth giving no thought, no value, to the life of man. A time of great woe not seen in times past. A time of decision for those select few who will be offered My great gift of Salvation. For it’s only by the washing away of their sins in My precious Blood will man be offered a chance to escape, a chance to spend eternity with Me. For I am Jesus whom ye crucified some 2000 years ago. I have given My life freely for the sake, the redemption of mankind. All who receive this gift upon their deaths shall be given eternal life with Me. While all who turn away, their fates will be sealed as they are turned over to their father, the devil and the fallen ones to spend eternity in the eternal Lake of Fire, a place of unquenchable torment. Many, Many have been called unto repentance, but few will come.” “When will this come to pass, Jesus? How much time do we still have?” “Not much, Child, not much!”

“The sands of time have sifted, until only a few granules remain in the hourglass of time.” “Have mercy Lord, I pray for mercy.” “Pray for mercy, Child, while there’s still time. Pray for fallen man to be saved. Call upon My Name whilst the time is upon you. Pray, My Child, again I say pray, before the time of judgment befalls upon the face of the earth. Pray for your lost. Pray for your enemy. Pray for the rich, the poor, the widows and the fatherless. Pray while there’s still time in the hourglass, for soon the last granule of sand will fall and the woes of judgement shall reach the earth. Pray, Child, pray!”
