

Evening Shades, The Period of 3, & The Darkness Dream 1-6-26@2:38 AM

I heard all this before entering the dream, “The shadows have fallen.” Still not awake nor fully inside the dream I began to ask questions. “Jesus Christ, do You mean ‘The shadows have fallen’ as in meaning also ‘Evening shades have fallen?’ Is this the correct meaning?” I asked, still neither fully awake or asleep, yet able to somehow comprehend all that was being spoken.” “Yes, daughter, it is,” came His swift reply. “This is the day in which the last seconds of time plays out of My time, as the world transitions from grace to tribulation. Within this time is found a period of 3. As mercy was granted, timings were changed. The period of 3 is found within the day, that is the day, that ends it all, before the day fully comes.” And with these words, I entered fully into the dream.

It began when I found myself looking outside through a big picture window. In front of me I could see a great distance as if it was miles and miles away. The day still had some daylight, but I could tell it was just starting to transition from daylight to dusk. That period of evening twilight which is also called the time when evening shades fall. I heard a voice speak from the sky, the Heavens which said, “When evening shades fall, when the shadows have fully fallen, then the new day begins. A day that contains a period of 3 between grace and tribulation.” I didn’t know what to say, because I knew these words were true, so I continued to look outside the large curtainless window. As I watched, I saw it quickly turn into dusk, twilight, the period before full night. I knew that to transition, to change into a new day, evening shades must fall first, and then comes the night. This is followed by the daylight hours and then night again in Father God’s created days. This is how He has created our days on the earth for us to live by. We see this is written in the Holy Word of God in Genesis 1. I turned to look into the room and realized I’m in a living room area of a house I’m not familiar with. With another quick look around the room I saw that I’m alone. I’m troubled in my spirit because these I knew were the evening shades that’s falling that I had been warning about, I knew this was it. I looked back outside. “Oh,” I said in surprise and dread, “the evening shades have already fallen. Now it’s turning quickly to dark, the dark of night.” As I spoke these words, the night suddenly appeared with all traces of the sun gone. “Evening shades have finally fallen. Night has come. It has come,” I said out loud with a sigh, feeling dread rise up in me, as I whispered these words, “and in the blackness of night, in its darkness is found great terror in the night for those who don’t know You, Jesus Christ as their Lord and God.” I looked out into the pitch black of night again. “Oh, Jesus Christ, this time has come, it has finally come.” I paused for a moment, but then I began to encourage myself in my Lord Jesus Christ as I said louder, “But even the darkness has an end when it lifts and is driven back the glorious sun returns.”

I heard a noise behind me, and I quickly turned to see that my son had walked into the room. He came to stand beside me, and I whispered, “Night has fallen. The evening shades have already come. We’ve already started the day, in which darkness in the night for 3 days will come.” He looked out the window into the darkness before us, and said in a knowing voice, “Yes, mom, night has fallen, and this night will be like none other. You have warned repeatedly about the evening shades falling and what they bring. They have fallen, Mom. It's time for us to prepare for the darkness. The dark like no other, in which lies terror for those who do not belong to the Lord Jesus Christ.” I looked at him intently, and I said, "You're right. There's nothing more we can do. Grace has ended, and we've entered into the transitional period. The period of 3, which when it ends, the tribulation and the Great Day of the Lord begins.” We looked together out of the large picture window at the darkness that stretched as far as our eyes could see. After a few minutes of silence he spoke again. “Mom, evening shades have now fallen, this night falls all over the whole world.” “I know, son, I know,” I replied. He spoke in sincerity, “We have to reach those that we can.” “I agree, son. Soon the lights will come and all will know that our God still sits on His throne. We have entered ‘His’ day in which the period of 3 He has spoken of will arrive,” I said.

“Yes, mom., I agree, This is what I am hearing when I pray too. We're already in the day, “His” day. We've already started the last day, the change over period where the evening shades have already fallen and we shall enter the night of the day.” “Yes Son,” I replied, “and a creation day as Father God created our days come in 3 phases. It begins with the darkness of night, then transitions to daylight, then night again. It is the same somehow in this period of 3 that Father God and Jesus Christ have spoken to me about when referring to it at times as a regular day for mankind. It will be darkness, which in my understanding includes the end of the grace period for man’s and the descent upon our world of the 3 days of darkness, the sun returns to the sky. But in this instance it means the Son as in Jesus Christ returning in the sky as the daylight, and then darkness again which refers to the word entering the Tribulation and Great Day of the Lord. But exactly how much time or days this is for His one day is still a mystery,” I finished saying. He nodded his head in agreement and we stood in silence for a few minutes. Until I spoke again. Our God is amazing. He does not change His patterns or ways. Evening shades have already fallen on the world. Our world is changing from night to day, and then night again. The end of grace has come and it’s time for Jacob’s troubles.” “I agree Mon,” he said, “and this first night is going to be a doozy. One of terror for the unsaved, backslidden and the evil ones as the three days of darkness begin. As you pointed out, the darkness comes, then the sun will rise and then the world will fall into a darkness of another kind as it goes through the tribulation and the Great Day of the Lord. Most are not ready,” he said passionately. “I know,” I whispered. Then the scene changed.

I found myself sitting in a classroom at a school desk. Standing before me was the Teacher. The Teacher I've seen so many times before. This Teacher I know is the Holy Ghost Spirit although once again He has presented Himself to look like a man for my benefit. He was dressed much the same as the first time He had revealed Himself to me in this form in the Soul Leechers Dream from 12-8-22@6:14 AM. He again appears as a lighter colored well-dressed man in a gray suit with black, thick pinstripes that were running vertically upon His suit jacket and pants. Accompanying His suit, He was wearing a white button up shirt and shiny black shoes. His hair is brown and His mustache again is well trimmed. Upon His face is the same pair of round black rimmed glasses as before. This time though instead of His sleek, long black, slender walking stick He had in His hand a long wooden ruler. I heard Him ask out loud, "What is a day? Do you know what a real day is? From the beginning of time when the Great Holy & True God of Heaven created this world, this firmament and all that was in it, He pulled light from the darkness as the Sacred Text tells us which is the Word of God. When He commanded, it was so. The night gave birth to light."

He paused for a slight moment, then with a smile of kindness He asked, "If The Great Almighty God of Heaven separated the darkness from the light, what does a day consist of?" He looked around as if waiting for someone out of the classroom to volunteer an answer. That's when I looked around too and realized I was alone. I am the only student in the classroom. The Teacher looked at me and ever so patiently asked out loud, "Daughter of Zion, what does a day consist of according to the Holy and Just, True God of Heaven?" I quickly looked around again, even though I knew already there was no one there and finally spoke. "In Genesis 1 in the Word of God it tells us that God created light out of darkness. He took the light and separated it from the dark and called the darkness evening which we now call night and the light day. So the day consists of night, then daytime, and it ends with night again. My understanding is that Father God's created days for man run from evening to evening, or as we say today from sundown to sundown. Sundown would be considered the time when you can no longer see the rays of the sun," I finished saying. I saw a slight smile appear on the Teacher's face as He said, "That would be correct, Daughter of Zion." He pointed His ruler to the chalk board where the words, "A day is really what?" had now appeared written, then He said, "Now tell me, in a few words what have you learned today in class? How does the knowledge of how a true day runs apply to all the Righteous Lamb, the Son of God Most High, Jesus Christ, Yeshua Ha' Mashiach has been speaking with you about in past and present times? How does this apply to the period of 3 that's inside the transitioning day of the Lord God Almighty, Gracious and True when grace ends and the Tribulation begins as you now understand it. Then tell me," he said with a slight smile, "how does it apply to a day as they were created to exist and be?" "Wow," I thought to myself, "that's a whole lot of questions. Jesus Christ please help me, I prayed." I cleared my throat as the Teacher patiently waited for me to respond.

"Please let these answers be right," I prayed to myself as I began speaking. "A day can have more than one meaning to Father God in Heaven, but for the days we live in on this earth it's been made clear to us in the Word of God, regardless of how nations and people choose to change the start and ending of each day. God, as the Creator of this world knows when each day starts and when it ends. Each day on earth created for us in our time contains 24 hours approximately with each day beginning at evening time of the night we now call sundown and then ending at sundown the next night. Father God's days always run forward, because in the beginning there wasn't a prior night to start the day on. There wasn't a day zero, because God created the world in 6 days, then rested on the 7th. If the first day of creation was counted as day zero instead of day one, then we would have 8 days for creation which is not what the Word of God says. So, the pattern for our days during creation by Father God is clearly defined as the beginning is at night meaning sundown, then daylight occurs in the middle, with the ending of each day being at night or sundown again. This is the pattern for a day chosen by Father God to use whether it's one of our earth days, or a symbolic day in which He speaks of things coming inside of like the Great Day of the Lord being called one day but has many days and years found inside of it. This is also how He is referring to the period of 3, I believe," I finished saying. I looked at the Teacher and He said quickly, "Continue with your answer Daughter of Zion." I nodded my head, took a deep breath and began speaking again.

Concerning the period of 3 and its transition being used in one of Father God's days, this last day that's expiring, my understanding is that the day itself contains a set number of days inside of His one day. The exact position we are at in this last day of expiring grace and its transition into the Great Day of the Lord with the Tribulation is not clearly known, because He is ever moving in His love. But it's clear to all His children with listening ears and eyes that are spiritually opened to His Holy Ghost Spirit we're in the end. We're in the last remnants of this change over period which is Father God's last second of time. It is already in the process of expiring. This period of 3 found inside the remnants of this last expiring day, since mercy was granted, and with the changing of the 4 suddenlies as needed for the holy actions of mercy and love's given requirements to be fulfilled by the command of my lovely Jesus Christ, it is now time for it to happen, to occur. The period of 3 has reached its time for complete fruition in the world of man. Which brings us to the 3 days of darkness which in my understanding is a judgment given in love because inside it is the purging of the believers of Jesus Christ and is the last main call for repentance before the Tribulation begins. I've sought my lovely Jesus Christ for His truth, and currently I believe it's now possible for the 3 days of darkness and the period of 3 to be one and the same time in Father God's last day. This is how they connect to one another, because many times Father God and Jesus Christ speaks in symbolism, parables, rhymes, riddles and puzzles keeping the mysteries unknown until the appointed time for them to be revealed by those willing to call upon heaven for the answers in Jesus Christ's name as Proverbs 25:2; Jeremiah 33:3 and Matthew 7:7 speaks and instructs His children to do."

"As we, the people of this world transition from the time of grace where the salvation of the Gentiles was made possible through Jesus Christ's sacrifice, and the Jews rejection of Him as their Messiah, as their Savior, we are continuing forward into a new day, but it's dark day, an evil time being the time of Jacob's trouble. It's the tribulation time. Yet it's also the time of hope for the Jewish people as they finally return to their God in truth through His Holy Son, Jesus Christ who died for all. My understanding is this age of grace has all but ended, and before the Tribulation and the Great Day of the Lord begins, for their time is one and the same when they happen, our world will enter this transitional period, a changeover period which we now have already done. This is where the world finds itself at, in Father God's last second of His expiring day, as the days switch over from the Day of Grace to the Day of Wrath and Vengeance of the Day of the Lord. When the switchover is occurring between these two days, this would also be the period of time in a normal day of man when the twilight occurs. When the evening shades have already fallen before the night fully descended. Another analogy would be comparing this twilight time or last second of time in Father God's expiring day to that of a clock. It would be the last second of an hour before it changes into the next one. The next new hour to occur. This change over period represented as twilight inside Father God's day is just like this last second on the clock that when it expires the new hour begins. So does the new day of Wrath begin when this day of grace of Father God fully expires." "Your understanding in this has increased, Daughter of Zion," the Teacher said, then continued, "but please explain further about the twilight period as you understand it from all the Holy Risen Lamb of God as spoken to you about."

I thought for a moment pulling up the memories from my many times spent together with my lovely Jesus Christ. After a moment I began to speak again. "Many times my lovely Jesus Christ and even Father God have given warning about when evening shades fall, that a new day would soon begin. Evening shades are often called shadows of darkness too. It is the period of night after the sun first sets where its rays of light are fading away into the evening darkness of night. It's also called twilight and dusk. Twilight of night is also the moment in time before total darkness. Twilight is also referenced as dawn, so this is why at times I reference it as twilight of night. The words, dreams, and visions that I have received and shared from Father God and Jesus Christ to His people were warnings of the lateness of the hour in our world of time in His day. We are in His twilight time of His expiring day of grace. How this relates to the period of 3 which occurs in the days of the transitioning period is this time is found inside His twilight, right before it changes over into the darkness of night again. Since it is inside the twilight, this change over period occurs in Father God's day of ending grace before the Tribulation begins and the Lamb's wrath falls, inside it has also been placed this period of 3. This time has also been explained to me as a time of repentance before Jesus Christ's wrath falls upon the evil and ungodly of the earth. When you compare prayerfully and study these things in the Word of God, the information provided from Heaven of the period of 3 given for true repentance and the 3 days of darkness also given as a time of true repentance, they line up as being one and the same event. These happenings lay somewhere in Father God's last day of grace, His last second we're living inside of in days in our time before the days of darkness and night of the Tribulation begins. This period of 3 possibly represents each day of the 3 days of darkness. Evening shades have fallen. Twilight has fallen. The day is ending and the world is now transitioning into the next day. This is the understanding I have of how this all is connected together and where our world now finds itself at,” I said confidently, remembering where this information had come from. Which was much time spent at the feet of my lovely Jesus Christ and Father God. I looked at the Teacher who was staring intently at me with His clear intelligent eyes. His eyes somehow shine with a piercing light of truth.

I watched as the Teacher finally moved as He placed both His hands on the end of the long wooden ruler leaning slightly forward upon it. He looked at me intently, so intently I began to wonder if I had answered incorrectly in one of my responses until a slow smile spread across His face as He said, “That is correct for the most part, but there is still more you need to learn, but for now look this way,” He instructed me as relief washed over me. “I’m good with that answer,” I thought to myself. I watched as He raised the ruler to the chalkboard and it began to change. It now seemed to resemble a Flatscreen TV. He pointed to the screen’s display which now had pictures on it. On the first picture displayed was night being shown as the beginning of a new day, one of God’s creation days. Beside it in another picture display being number 2 was a one of daylight. Next, beside it in picture number 3 on display was a picture of dusk, of twilight where evening shades have already fallen with the rays of sunlight having almost fully faded from sight. The next displayed picture being number 4 was of the period of darkness, of night, followed by one of dawn as the sun is returning in the sky for picture number 5. But in the last picture, the 6th one, it jumped immediately to darkness, bypassing the time of much of the daylight and the time of night’s twilight. I knew somehow this was to represent how a new day begins at evening’s darkness, at sundown. The Teacher pointed to picture number 3 on display where the sun had set and the time of twilight when evening shades had already fallen and the sun’s rays of light had faded to almost the full darkness of night. He looked at me in seriousness and said, “Daughter of Zion, this is where the world is at. What does that mean?”

My mouth quivered for a moment, because I knew the answer already, but few, it seemed, chose to believe it. Finally, I said, “The evening shades have already fallen on our world. We’re leaving the twilight of night to enter the dark, the night, the time of darkness.” He replied with a solemn, “Congratulations, you have answered correctly.” Then He pointed with His ruler to the picture number 4 of the display of the darkness of night, then traced it to the 5th picture of dawn with the sun returning in the sky. I heard Him ask as He turned to look at me, “As this day you see and live in transitions from darkness of night to dawn, what does this mean?” I replied, “It means the darkness, the night when it lifts it changes over to the time the sun returns to the sky, but also its meaning Jesus Christ the Son is returning in the sky.” He looked at me with His piercing eyes of truth for a moment. “You are correct again,” He replied with a nod of His head. He said quickly, “Never forget how the Holy, Majestic Righteous God of Heaven and Jesus Christ, His Son uses signs and symbolism for His children to understand His meaning. All the while keeping the enemy, lucifer’s dark kingdom seeking and wondering about the true meaning and understanding of what has been shared. If at a later time, the enemy has a need to know, an appointed time given to them by Heaven will be provided.” “I will remember this in Jesus Christ’s Name,” I responded to the Teacher.

He smiled slightly and said, “I know you will.” Then He pointed again to the chalkboard made somehow into a flatscreen TV. He pointed to the last picture displayed of the night, picture number 6, where the darkness skipped the daylight and twilight phases of that day. He looked at me intently again and asked, “What is this time in your world Daughter of Zion?” I didn’t hesitate anymore as I replied, “It’s the time when hopelessness arrives. The time when Antichrist rises to full power. It is the time of a kind of darkness different than all others like never seen or experienced before our world shall enter. This picture represents Father God’s next day we are transitioning into. It’s the time of the Great Wrath of the Lamb as He rains down holy judgment on the wicked, evil and ungodly during the tribulation.” The Teacher stepped away from the chalkboard display and walked over to the desk. He leaned in close to my face and looked me straight in the eyes and said in a voice of seriousness, “Daughter of Zion, that is correct.” Then He straightened up and walked back to the front of the room. He turned and spoke these last words. “You have passed your schooling for today. Class is dismissed”. Then I awoke.
