

You've Been Caught Unaware Journal Entry 4-9-20 @5:19 AM

“I woke up this morning with my thoughts upon unkind words and actions that were once again directed at me as of late and these things have caused my heart to ache, but I've been doing the only thing I know to do Jesus, and that is to bring it to You. So while seeking Your face and praying once again this morning, all I could do is ask You to love on these people. Show them mercy. Help me to hold no unforgiveness or resentment, for when people continually attack us, though sometimes they may do it unknowingly if you do not guard your heart then these things can creep in and slip in unaware. So this is what I am doing, I'm guarding my heart for it belongs to You and I don't want anything displeasing in My relationship, my walk with You. But I will admit even though You know it already, I'm a little broken this morning. As I walked over to the cabinet drawer, I saw a package of partially opened cookies that I believe my grandson left open, so I reached in after feeling the cookie bag and pulled out a baggie. There were only a few remaining I could tell because the package felt light and almost empty. As I reached into the cookie package, and started removing the cookies. There were only 4 total remaining. When I came to the last cookie, when I pushed the packaging aside to get to it, it was broken. Broken into 3 pieces.

As I looked at these 3 perfectly round cookies, perfect in size and shape for they were Oreos. Then I looked at this last remaining cookie all broken, You spoke to me sweet Jesus. You spoke these gentle, loving words, “This cookie Child is broken due to circumstances beyond its control, yet it is still a cookie. It can still serve its purpose which is to be enjoyed by whoever it is eaten by. What you must remember, Child, is that although this one has been broken when you eat it, it will still taste the same as the others. It will serve the same purpose as the others. To be eaten and enjoyed by man. What you must also remember Child is that I take broken people, broken things and use them and their circumstances for the good of all. When you trust in Me and My way for your life, then even during these times of brokenness, your effectiveness as My Child has not diminished at all. You will find as these storms pass, that you can draw from these moments of life, strength, My strength and yes, you will learn to be more compassionate to your fellow man. Your neighbor who is going through these same situations though circumstances may vary.”

“Child, there are times in your life that brokenness is what's needed for you to actually see clearly. For many people in your world today view life in ‘rose colored glasses’ as you say, looking at the world unrealistically as if they will never have to face a battle or endure hardship. And when reality hits, if they don't have Me in their life to stabilize the ship during the storms of life, it will capsize. They will fall and many will never get up from their positions of defeat, in a constant state of drowning. But a just man, a righteous and holy person that loves and trusts in Me...well, Child, when they fall, and everyone will fall sometime within their life, some more than others, though they fall 7 times they shall also rise again. For their true strength lies within Me and not this world. Yes, Child, you are broken, yet, so was I during the hardships of Calvary. Let Me take your brokenness Child, and let Me turn it into something wonderful and great for this is My way and even My perfect will for your life.”

“Please do, Jesus, for although yes, I am hurting not only in my body this morning, so is my heart as well, and this pain surpasses all these physical ailments. Let these hurts and heartache be used fully and completely, totally to somehow glorify You, Jesus. For You are the only hope that I have, that this world has and without You and your unconditional, everlasting love, I would be a wreck with my life in shambles. During the period of years when I turned from You during my time of despair, instead of running into the safety of Your loving arms, it almost destroyed me, all areas of my life. Yet You came for me Jesus. You came to me during the darkest, most desperate time of my life and You scooped me up within Your loving arms and carried me to safety. Even while still covered in the shame of my sins, You were calling me Your 'beloved,' even 'My fair one!' I love You, Jesus! I love You and I shall never forget from where You brought me from, but more importantly I realize that You will do whatever it takes to reach one soul. One lost soul for all souls are precious in Your eyes and the eyes of Father God. Look what You endured not only upon Calvary but the time leading up to it. Such love Jesus, such love for a bunch of self-centered, sin filled people. We don't deserve You or Your love."

"No, Child, mankind doesn't deserve anything, yet all these things I give to them freely for I do love them unconditionally." "We are so undeserving." "That's in your opinion for Child in My eyes each man's soul is a treasure of great worth and each life is a gift from Father God, for man is created in His likeness with His breath, Father God's coursing and flowing throughout your frail human bodies. Each person that is created is placed upon the earth for a divine purpose, but they are also given freewill upon their creation and can choose whether to walk in the divine calling I have placed upon their lives. There is a constant never ending battle for the souls of mankind between Father God, Me and satan, mankind's great enemy. This battle has raged since Adam and Eve fell to sin in the garden although the war between, as you say, between good and evil began the moment sin was born in lucifer and he rose against Me and was cast out of Heaven. The battle for your souls is fierce, for satan offers many pleasures and desires of the flesh to man, easily deceiving many. Since their fall in the garden, their bodies have taken on a sin nature as each child is birthed being passed down from Adam and Eve whose bodies were infected with sin when they fell."

"Think of it like this Child, this pandemic, this Coronavirus that is spreading across your world, although unseen by the naked eye it is spreading from person to person infecting many and causing death for some. Such is the way of sin! Though it infects you physically, it infects you spiritually and sin is more deadly and more rampant than any disease, known or unknown shall ever be. Because not only has it brought death and destruction to millions, again I say by the billions, it will also destroy your soul and send you into eternal damnation into the pits of hell and then the lake of fire. Then your woes shall be unending everlasting torment that will never end. O' taste and see that My love is good, is pure and is free to all men equally, for I, Jesus came to save all and that you may live life more abundantly. Those who accept Me within their hearts shall find as you have Child, that even during the most difficult of times and hardship that I am the joy, the peace, the hope that they need to sustain them. You will need these things Child and you will need to draw them from Me through My strength and not your own for what is coming upon your world. War is almost upon you and although the alarm has been sounded, few have chosen to listen. They are unprepared spiritually and even physically for I have been warning My people, all the people these last few months of your time to prepare."

"Did not I warn Noah to prepare in advance that I would soon flood the world with water? He listened and he and his 'immediate' family were saved! He, his wife, their sons and their wives, eight souls to be exact, yet all were warned and the people laughed and scoffed at his warnings from My Father God. Including his one time friends and his other blood relatives such as his aunts, uncles and cousins. ‘Foolish Noah,’ they said until the water began to rise from the earth as the rains descended. O’ foolish world, foolish virgins the time is almost upon you and you have been caught unaware and unprepared once again refusing to heed the gentle tugging in your hearts that truth is being told. And those in your country Child, because you live in the land once known as ‘the land of plenty,’ are saying, ‘it shall never happen here!’ Watch and watch closely for it has already begun. This pandemic being just the start, the beginning of all that is soon to take place upon you and your world. O’ foolish people when you’re out in the oceans of life and drowning, then you remember, ‘If I had only put on my life preserver, my life jacket as I was warned to, then I would not find myself in this position. I might find myself still within the waters of the deep but I would be floating and not drowning, going under, taking in water within my lungs and gasping for breath.’ I am telling My people, all the people now once again and it is time to take heed and notice the signs fast approaching.”

“I say again, ‘War is coming and it’s coming fast!’ But this is just the beginning of many woes upon your nation, your world, for war is almost immediately followed by famine for upon the arrival of these invading forces in the waters of the deep near your country’s ports in that of California and of New York you will know that this is the start, the day that famine is declared by Me to truly start within your country. Yes, even spreading throughout your world like a chain reaction spreading from one country to another affecting the young, the old, the rich and poor for no one shall be exempt. But those who are Mine, who truly love Me and trust Me, I shall meet their need and that is what I am partially doing now, meeting their need in advance by telling My people and all who will listen to prepare and prepare now. Yes, if you still choose not to prepare and you trust Me, I shall still supply your need but you will endure much more added hardships upon yourselves and those you love than if you had tried to prepare. It was through My warning to Pharaoh in a dream in which I revealed the interpretation to Joseph that famine was coming, that he, Joseph was moved into a position of power where the people were able to prepare and prepare they did. When the promised foretold famine came they were prepared. My people were cared for, as well as the others, the heathen who believed in their false gods but because they heeded My voice, My instructions and aided in the preparations, they prepared themselves, they also partook in the provisions stored up in advance.”

“Listen to Me, O” foolish people, those who profess their love for Me. I am sending you warning and all other people as well once again that war is coming. Prepare for it and do it now but start with your hearts and when those are truly right before Me, then you will be able to hear and understand more fully what My Holy Spirit has been trying to tell you and lead you to do. That is prepare. Prepare for war and famine for if Father God delays My coming, then it has been told to you already there is 3 years of confirmed war with the rest remaining a mystery. Your country, your world is not prepared for this and upon My returning when I return into Heaven with My beloved bride, My true church in spotless white your world shall enter the period known as the great tribulation, the time of judgement. Then woe, woe I say again to all the inhabitants who are left to endure My Father’s wrath and My own for surely this world has never seen in your history, this time that is to befall your world! Get ready and get ready now for all these things have been set into motion. There are no more delays. No more periods of grace. All is set. It has begun. Pray, children pray, pray for your lost, all the lost. For many are still yet to perish not only from this virus, but through war and great famine and many, many are still lost. Reach them

Child, reach them while you still can for this is the true purpose of man to lead one another to Me, to redemption from their sins for to spend their eternity with Me, for I, I love them all.”
